Antwerp Defenders, Fighting Well at First, Then Fled in Disorder.

NONE LEFT TO

Surrender is Finally Negotiated With Belgian Burgomaster.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—By Wireless to Sayville.—The general staff of the German army announced today that in the beginning a very strong garrison defended Antwerp with great energy, but that after the attack by German infantry and marine divisions, the defenders fled in full rout. Among the Antwerp garrison was one British marine brigade. The complete collapse of the Anglo-Belgian defense of Antwerp was shown by the fact that no military authority could be found with which to treat concerning the surrender of the city. This surrender was finally negotiated with the burgomaster. It is impossible to give as yet the number of prisoners taken with Antwerp. Many of the defenders, who fled to Holland, were interned.

Gov. von Beseler, who has been decorated with the Order of Merit for his capture of Antwerp, has issued a proclamation addressed to the people saying no one would be harmed unless they committed hostilities upon the Germans.

"Resistance," he announced, "will cause the destruction of your beautiful city." Private property in Antwerp was spared.

The following information has been given out in Berlin for publication: "Reports received here from Vienna set forth that the Russian siege of the Przemyel fortress has been abandoned. Austrian troops have defeated six Russian divisions near Lanout. They also routed one division of Cossacks east of Nymso.

"The Japanese have occupied the Shan Tung railroad in Shan Tung province, China. This is a Chinese state."

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The official war news is brief today, but war office statements are not needed to make plain that the momentous results hang on the fortunes of the desperate battles now being waged at vital points on the line that stretches from Switzerland through northern France to within twenty-five miles of the straits of Dover.

The heaviest fighting is on the line of Lassigny and Lens. This afternoon's official report from Paris says that the allies repulsed German attacks between Arras and the Oise and that cavalry engagements continue in the region of Labasse, Estaries and Hazebrouck.

Special attention is directed to Ostend. There have assembled the greater part of the Belgian army and about two-thirds of the British forces that escaped from Antwerp. It is believed that Germany is pushing forward to attack the city with the hope of capturing and using the port in her operations against England.

A bitter struggle to keep the Germans from the coast is inevitable. Today's reports indicate that the German cavalry advance is less than thirty miles distance from Ostend. The strength of the allies at Ostend is not known. It is possible that the British reinforcements which were unable to reach Antwerp in time to help in the defense of that city are now in Ostend.

Still less is known of the situation in the eastern theatre of the war. Petrograd is silent on recent developments. The Russian war office explains this silence on the ground of strategy.

Vienna claims the Russian attack on Przemyel, the strong fortress in Galicia, has failed. A Russian source reports that the Russian army is retreating in Galicia. The Russian source claims that the German army is advancing in Galicia. The Russian source claims that the German army is advancing in Galicia.

BOAT SWAMPS; U.S. NAVAL MEN DROWN

Washington, Oct. 12.—A radiogram to the revenue cutter services today from the commander of the Bohring sea fleet, reported the drowning of Assistant Surgeon L. W. Jenkins and five other men when a boat from the cutter Manning swamped Saturday in Unalga pass, off Cape Sarichev.

The message said: "A boat from the revenue cutter Manning landed at Cape Sarichev, in Unalga pass, in order to carry medical aid to an employee of the light house at that point. In returning from the beach with the sick man the cutter's boat was swamped."

ENGLAND ALONE BUYS NORMALLY

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 12.—England, alone, of the belligerent European powers, is buying grain normally, according to delegates to the eighteenth annual convention of the Grain Dealers National association which convened here today. Nearly 1,000 delegates representing export and commission firms and country dealers are in attendance.

The grain trade to England was entirely normal, the dealers asserted, but France was buying now only about ten per cent. of its usual amount. Germany and Austria, they said, were purchasing nothing. The dealers point out that Italy, Spain and Portugal, which ordinarily do not buy American grain until January, were now buying heavily. Russia, it was declared, never had obtained grain from this country and was not doing so now.

GERMAN CAVALRY WINS VICTORIES

London, Oct. 12.—(9:50 a. m.)—A dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company from Berlin, via Amsterdam, gives the following statement, which was issued last night by the German general staff: "Our cavalry on Saturday completely routed a French cavalry division west of Lille, and near Hazebrouck was inflicted several losses on another French cavalry division. Until now the German command of the French in the Western theatre has not been so successful."

PREPARE FOR BATTLE AT SEASIDE CAPITAL

London, Oct. 12.—(1:30 p. m.)—The news of German movements between Antwerp and Ostend up to the present is so fragmentary and contradictory as to be almost worthless.

The Germans are maintaining their customary secrecy and reports coming from Belgium and Dutch sources of heavy repulses to the Germans, with losses suspiciously large and sound, in numbers are looked at askance nowadays.

The capture of Ostend would of course be worth the possession of many Antwerp to the Germans' plans, so it may be taken for granted that they will enter the popular seaside resort without entering into the nature of an insurrection taking place.

A message from Budapest published in Rome credits the Hungarian government with the intention of granting autonomy to Transylvania with a view to avoiding an insurrection in that country.

The organization for the revival meetings to be conducted this coming winter by Dr. Milford H. Lyons was completed Monday morning at a meeting held at the Anthony hotel at 9 o'clock with the evangelist's advance agent, Mr. Pitzer. The president and secretary were elected at a meeting held Sunday afternoon at the Grace Reformed church.

With the president, E. A. K. Hackett, in the chair and Secretary G. A. Philbrick at the desk, the meeting was called to order and the various committees were chosen with the following results:

Cottage prayer meetings—Rev. C. C. Travis, Rev. Charles Manchester and Rev. A. K. Zartman. Personal work—Rev. O. E. Tomes. Music—Clinton R. Willson. Ushers—A. H. Perfect. Out-of-town delegation—Rev. E. Q. Landman. Fraternities and orders—Rev. J. Folsom. Factories and shops—Hiram Philley. Publicity—Harry Fletcher. Entertainment—L. H. Moore. Transportation—Rev. C. H. Snashall. Finance—E. A. K. The last committee met Monday afternoon to decide on a place to erect the tabernacle.

Conforming with the wish of Dr. Lyons that all churches with the exception of those in the outskirts hold no meetings whatsoever while the meetings were in progress, the Ministerial association decided that all congregational meetings should be dispensed with.

Dr. Lyons and his party.

Rev. Dr. Lyons and six assistants will constitute the evangelistic party in Fort Wayne. The complete list is: M. H. Lyons, D. D., director; Loren G. Jones, chorus leader; Mrs. Loren G. Jones, pianist; Ray Upson, secretary to Dr. Lyons; Mrs. Daisy Barr, superintendent of women's work; Guy Sutton, custodian; Rev. H. H. Pitzer, assistant and director of men's work.

THREE STRAIGHT NOW FOR BOSTON BRAVES

National Leaguers Again Take Mackmen Into Camp in Twelve Innings of Gruelling Play

Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 12.—Boston's National Leaguers made it three straight from the Philadelphia American League team here today, taking the world's championship game in twelve innings of gruelling play.

More than thirty-five thousand people witnessed the spectacular contest, in which repeated ties were broken in the final innings by terrific batting, in which Baker and Gowdy starred.

Batteries and Line-Up.

Tyler and Gowdy were announced as the battery for Boston, and Bush and Schang for Philadelphia. The line-up Philadelphia—Murphy, rf; Oldring, lf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; McInnis, 1b; Walsh, cf; Barry, ss; Schang, c; Bush, p.

Boston—Moran, rf; Evers, 2b; Connelly, lf; Whitted, cf; Schmidt, 1b; Deal, 3b; Maranville, ss; Gowdy, c; Tyler, p.

Klem gave the decisions behind the plate and Dineen on bases. Hildebrand went to left field and Byron to right field.

Were Wildly Enthusiastic.

Some 35,000 wildly enthusiastic spectators saw the Athletics make a desperate stand on the Boston field to stave off a third defeat which would all but end their chances of bearing off the world's championship.

The Bostons, inspired by thousands of the home folks that filled Fenway park, tried for a third victory with the same keen pursuit of conquest that enabled them to twice topple over the American leaguers on their own ballfield.

"We've got the jump on the Athletics and they never can get up enough speed to catch us now," said Manager Stallings of the Bostons. "They have never seen Tyler in action and Rudolph is ready if we need him today. Bender can't come back so soon, and if he does we will beat him again. There is only the Athletics' second string artillery to stop us."

Capt. Thomas' Explanation.

"We have not been hitting," said Captain Ira Thomas, of the Athletics, "and any team looks feeble when it is not getting in solid blows. Watch us today. Our club is not the one to take a third straight beating."

Boston was plain baseball crazy today. Hundreds swarmed all night at the gates of Fenway park. Within an hour after the unreserved stands were flung open every seat was taken and scores lined the back field and pressed against a guard fence erected around the rear of the outfield. Once the crowd broke the wooden barrier and mounted police had to drive the people back into the stands.

Belgians' Brave Effort to Save Antwerp—"Movie" Battle Pictures, Straight from Europe, are Most Startling yet Secured

These cooking battle pictures, taken a few seconds apart, are from moving picture films made by a daring operator during the fighting in which the Belgians attempted to prevent the Germans from reaching Antwerp. The scene is in the streets of Alost on the road to Antwerp and the brave photographer is J. Frank Brockliss, of the Lubin Film company. Although under the heaviest fire he escaped with his films. A street barricade is being defended by the gallant Belgians, whose dead and wounded are lying all around them. In the upper picture is a disabled German auto, but the men inside were still operating their machine gun. The lower picture was evidently taken first.

FIGHTING IN LILLE REGION DESPERATE

London, Oct. 12.—It is stated that the Germans lost 45,000 men during the attack on fortresses Waelhem and Wavre-St. Catherine at Antwerp, says a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam.

Except for a flood of vivid details regarding the fall of Antwerp the British public has been practically cut off from news from the front during the past forty-eight hours. It is felt, however, that events of tremendous importance, either are occurring or are impending in the area about Lille, where the cavalry of the contending forces has been in violent contact for the past week.

The military critics for the London morning papers leave their space to speculation regarding the utility of Antwerp for German offense or defense. Most of them agree that unless Dutch neutrality is violated, Antwerp will be of no more use in forwarding German purposes of making Zeppelin and naval raids on England than other places in Belgium, which have been occupied for some time by the invaders. They agree, however, that for military purposes in the western theatre of war the occupation of Antwerp is of supreme importance to Germany, which now will be able to release several divisions to aid the sorely pressed right wing. Further, the capture of the city will insure the lines of communication should retreat be necessary through Belgium.

Additional details of the shelling of Antwerp indicate that the damage was not as great as first estimated. The damage inflicted on the German artillery may be set off in large measure by the great destruction wrought on German shipping in the harbor by the Belgians. An official communication from Berlin states that no information is available as the amount of booty taken in the city. The same official statement asserts that on Saturday German cavalry completely routed a French cavalry division near Lille, which indicates extreme limit of the western battle is within twenty miles of the straits of Dover.

It is officially announced in Berlin that in the eastern theater of war all attacks of the first and tenth Russian armies have been repulsed, while the same fate was suffered by the Russians when they attempted an outflanking movement by way of Schirwindt, East Prussia. In South Poland, the Germans claim, their armies have reached the Vistula. The assertion is also made that the Russians have invented the stories which have been given out regarding great victories at Augustowo and Suwalki.

Petrograd remains silent as to the movements of the Russian armies but hints that secrecy is necessary for the time being because important operations are pending.

Late reports indicate that the terrific fighting, partaking of the nature of siege operations, has taken place during the last fortnight around Roye, Laasigny and Albert, the last named place having been completely destroyed. Inspection of the works from which the Germans were driven shows that they took the fullest advantage of the rock in quarries.

Now that the opposing forces are deployed in a comparatively level country shorter periods of vigorous fighting will probably produce more decisive results than did the engagements while the opposing lines were entrenched against each other.

From Austria come reports, by way of Italy, of the rapid spread of Asiatic cholera and suffering being endured by the Austrian troops on account of the unusually cold weather.

The Rome newspapers commenting on the appointment of Gen. Supelli as Italian minister of war consider it significant that he should have been born in Capo d'Ataria, an Italian province still in the possession of Austria.

Under the new minister it is expected that preparations to place the army on

BELGIAN QUEEN YET AT OSTEND

London, Oct. 12.—2 p. m.—Definite information has been received here that the queen of the Belgians, notwithstanding the report last week that she had reached England, has not left Ostend for London.

In the course of the operations around Antwerp last week King Albert proceeded to St. Nicholas, an important place on the railroad line between Antwerp and Ghent and beyond the outer range of the Antwerp forts. His majesty was at St. Nicholas as late as last Thursday morning. His subsequent journey westward was in company with Belgian troops, whose withdrawal in that direction had been rendered necessary by the overwhelming forces opposed by them.

SUIT IS RESULT OF A JAIL TERM

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Suit for $25,000 damages filed against United States Judge Kenesaw M. Landis on Saturday, it became known today is the result of 30 days spent in jail by Frank Blackledge, on a contempt charge preferred by the federal judge.

If the suit is pressed to trial, it will be the first time in local history it was said that a United States judge was sued for damages as a result of one of his decisions. Blackledge became involved in a bankruptcy suit and Judge Landis accused him of perjury. He bases his claim for damages on alleged impairment of his health due to his stay in jail, loss of his position and $2,500, which it is alleged, was involved in the bankruptcy proceedings.

The roof and the lighting system of the home of P. J. Smeltz, 707 Archer avenue, were damaged when the house was struck by lightning during the storm Saturday.

A meeting will be held next Saturday evening in the armory of company D in the Flick building, on West Berry street, of all men interested in the organization of a rifle club to affiliate with the National Rifle association.

Dr. E. M. VanBuskirk, the county health officer, will read a paper on "School Sanitation" at the meeting of the Fort Wayne Medical society Tuesday evening in the assembly room of the court house.

CELEBRATION OF DAY VERY QUIET

Banks Closed But General Business Goes on Same as Usual.

Aside from the fact that the financial institutions of Fort Wayne were closed there was little else to indicate that Columbus or Discovery day was being observed on Monday.

In the public schools the teachers devoted part of the time of the morning session to readings and short exercises in keeping with the occasion but there were no general programs in either the public or parochial schools.

Business at the postoffice was carried on as usual because the day is not a national holiday but a legal holiday and about thirty states in the Union have adopted it.

Members of the Knights of Columbus have prepared for an elaborate celebration of the day beginning at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening at their hall. The speakers will be Rev. George Horstman, rector of St. Andrew's Catholic church, Rev. Edward Mungovan, of Arcola, and Rev. Vurpillat, assistant at St. Peter's Catholic church. Vocal and instrumental renditions will be a part of the program. State Deputy Charles M. Niezer will read his report at the meeting.

Under the Indiana laws the saloons are compelled to close and they are having a double holiday, having been closed all day Sunday.

PARIS RUSHES WORK ON AERIAL DEFENSE

Paris, Oct. 12.—(11:25 a. m.)—A German aeroplane, at a quarter past ten this morning, dropped bombs between two railroad trains that were in the act of pulling out of the Northern railroad station. The missiles did not explode, but were later found imbedded in two feet of earth. The railroad trains were crowded with passengers.

The progress of the campaign in the north of France and the fall of Antwerp were forgotten for a moment today by the people of Paris who spent their time discussing the throwing of bombs on the capital from German aeroplanes as a result of which three persons were killed yesterday and fourteen wounded. At the same time officials adopted measures looking to the prevention of similar acts in the future. The first thing done was the appointment of Gen. Hirschauer to take charge of the aerial defense of the city. Gen. Hirschauer is an aeronautic expert. Later a number of deputies met at the call of Deputy Denys Cochin to consider various means of rendering the city more secure from aeroplane attacks.

tioned at cardinal points to be always ready to dash after the air craft of the enemy as soon as they should be signalled approaching the city; the arming of fast monoplanes with quick firing guns and warnings, by residents of the capital to the French aero club which is now under military control, were among the suggestions discussed. Finally M. Cochin sent a telegram to Bordeaux urging immediate adoption of efficacious measures with the view of reassuring the people.

The news that one of the German bombs yesterday struck the Cathedral of Notre Dame has been communicated to the Vatican. It is reported that the pope exclaimed upon getting the message: "Providence has prevented an outrage which would have shocked the world."

Military critics, commenting today on the movements of the armies in the Apremont region, declare it is worthy of note that Apremont to the east of St. Mihiel, is the route the enemy would take if they sought to withdraw from St. Mihiel in the direction of Lorraine. Their positions in this vicinity mean much to them, it is declared.

general. He succeeds the late Justice Lurton. The other business of the day was a formal call by the court of President Wilson, in conformity with a custom established years ago for the judicial branch of the government to pay its respects to the executive.

Justice McReynolds had already taken the oath to support the constitution, but the oath to administer justice alike to all was postponed until today. The former oath is usually subscribed to in private, but the latter, bearing the solemn obligation to administer justice "without respect to persons and do equal right to the poor and to the rich," has, without exception, in late years, been taken in open court. Despite the fact that lawyers knew no motions would be received and no arguments heard during the day, many crowded the little court room to witness the ceremonies connected with the return of court and the seating of Justice McReynolds.

The Buffaloes were entertained at their hall Sunday afternoon by the Summit Four. This quartet is composed of singers of marked ability.

CUTS OFF COUNTRY LINES.

Delphos Home Phone Co. Wants $2.88 Bill Paid.

Delphos, O., Oct. 12.—As a result of a controversy over the sum of $2.88, which the Delphos Home Telephone Co. claims is due them from the Northwestern Rural Telephone Co. for taxes paid, the lines of the rural company have been disconnected from the local switchboard.

This is the second time within a year that the patrons of the rural line have been cut off from local service on account of the refusal of the rural company to pay the amount of $2.88.

An injunction was granted the Northwestern company in the Allen county courts, requiring the Delphos Home Telephone Co. to reconnect the rural lines some months ago.

ADAMS COUNTY PAIR WED.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 12.—Though rain and gloom made the day far from ideal for a wedding, Oscar E. The couple went to Pleasant Mills.

LOSES SUIT AGAINST RAILWAY.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—After less than two hours' deliberation the jury hearing the damage suit of William Windemuth against the Chicago and Erie Railroad company, venue here from Huntington county, returned a verdict finding for the defendant company. Two days were required to try the case. Windemuth's demand was based on allegations that he was attacked and beaten and severely injured by an intoxicated man while a passenger on an Erie train. His chief point of contention was that the railroad company failed to afford him proper protection from injury.

SIX STUDENTS STUNNED.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Six students of the Matamoros school in Harrison township were knocked to the floor and stunned when lightning struck the building during an electrical storm. Helen Bodwell and Carl Snyder were slightly burned. The teacher had dismissed school to attend a funeral, but nine of the pupils, living a considerable distance from the buildings, remained within to await the passing of a threatened rainstorm.

WOMAN SWINDLER FINED.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 12.—Mary Hirtie, of Toledo, the woman arrested after she had victimized two of the local business houses by the short-change method, sobered up sufficiently to conclude she didn't like her quarters in the county jail, and that she had better plead guilty and pay the penalty; accordingly she was again taken before Squire Manship, who assessed her a fine of $25 and costs, it being understood that she is to reimburse the merchants she defrauded.

ELOPES AS HER SISTER DID.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—Carmen Crouse, this city, and Miss Bessie Lanning, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lanning of near Vera Cruz, eloped to Hillsdale, Mich., and were married there. Ten days ago Miss Lanning's sister, Miss Rhue, eloped to Hillsdale and became the bride of James Grove, living south of Bluffton.

STRUCK BY AUTO TRUCK.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Inez May Sowars, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sowars, is recovering from bruises received when struck by an automobile truck. With other school children, the child was playing in the street at recess time and ran in front of the machine, which was running slowly. She was knocked to one side else her injuries would have been more serious.

CARNIVAL ATTACHES FINED.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Jasper Hefflin and Harry Dale, carnival attaches, arrested for operating gambling devices on the festival grounds, charged their plea from not guilty to guilty in Justice Croninger's court and each drew a fine of $5 and costs, amounting to $14.60. They settled.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 10:1-13.

- 1 And Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Israel come to make him king.
- 2 And it came to pass, when Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who was in Egypt, whether he had fled from the presence of Solomon the king, heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.
- 3 And they sent and called him. So Jeroboam and all Israel came and spake to Rehoboam, saying,
- 4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will serve thee.
- 5 And he said unto them, Come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.
- 6 And king Rehoboam took counsel with the old men that had stood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, saying, What counsel give ye me to return answer to this people?
- 7 And they spake unto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them, they will be thy servants for ever.
- 8 But he forsook the counsel which the old men gave him, and took counsel with the younger men that were brought up with him, that stood before him.
- 9 And he said unto them, What advice give ye that we may return answer to this people, which have spoken to me, saying, Ease somewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?
- 10 And the young men that were brought up with him spake unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake unto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it somewhat lighter for us; thus shalt thou say unto them, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.
- 11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.
- 12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come again to me on the third day.
- 13 And the king answered them roughly; and king Rehoboam forsook the counsel of the old men.

Municipal Credit Needed.

Supporting the proposal for a constitutional convention in Indiana next year, Roscoe M. Woods, a Hammond real estate man, has written a forceful letter in which he discusses some phases of the situation that have not entered into the general consideration of the problem. Among these is the need for more extended municipal credit among the progressive Indiana cities which are seeking to do things.

Mr. Woods cites the fact that had it not been for the growth of the Indiana industrial cities, the population of the state at the last census would have undoubtedly shown a falling off instead of an increase. These cities, forging ahead rapidly and confronted constantly by new demands in caring for increased growth and increased opportunity, are circumscribed by the present 2 per cent. constitutional limitation on credit. It is one of the many things that needs remedying. Schools, park systems and many other municipal enterprises are hampered and retarded by reason of it, and the public is denied advantages for which it is willing to pay and which it insistently demands. Yet the proscription against municipal indebtedness in excess of the 2 per cent. valuation intervenes to throttle growth and to hamper progress.

Indiana needs a new constitution in order to free itself from the shackles of archaic limitations well enough, perhaps, in their day, but their day was sixty years ago. You can aid in striking off the bonds by voting "yes" on the constitutional convention question in November.

What were presumed to be the strongest and most impregnable fortifications in the world—those at Antwerp—have been crumbled by the modern siege gun in ten or eleven days of assault. The perfectly obvious moral of the situation seems to be that fortifications are in the last analysis practically useless and futile, after all. Perhaps, too, the outcome of this terrific European struggle will be some other plan than the martial one for adjusting national differences. Two months of the test on a gigantic scale have been utterly void of any progress toward peace. The chief hope in the continuation of the struggle is that it shall finally lead all the nations to an acceptance of the fact that exact justice has quite as much chance of recognition in arbitration as in the arbitrament of the sword, the siege gun, the dreadnaught and the aircraft.

The Allen county democratic candidates, who are now engaged in the active pre-election canvass, are being kindly received everywhere by the rank and file of the voters, and the ticket is one which is appealing strongly to the people by reason of the general high calibre of the men who compose it. There is every indication that it will receive the positive endorsement of a victory at the polls in November.

Unless present plans shall be overturned by some unexpected contingency, congress is to bring the present session to adjournment next Saturday evening, with the prospect that it will be unnecessary to again convene before the regular session in December. It's going to seem a bit strange for a time to try to get along without congress in session, but the country has nerved itself up to the point where it is willing to attempt it.

In connection with the coming of the Indiana conference of the Daughters of American Revolution to Fort Wayne tomorrow, ladies of the local chapter make the request that business houses display flags, and we trust the suggestion may be generally adopted. It is never out of place to fly the Stars and Stripes, and it is particularly fitting to do so while the city has as its guests these descendants of the Revolutionary fathers.

PRESS ON BATTLE IN

"Matter of Speculation."

NORTHERN FRANCE.

San Francisco Chronicle:—"So nearly equal are the rival armies operating in France and Belgium that there is yet no certain indication as to the result in that region, while the ultimate outcome of the war itself is as much a matter of speculation as ever."

"Would Not End War."

Providence Journal:—"Even if the French and British should accomplish the destruction or capture of the armies confronting them, and the Russians should have the same success, that would not necessarily signify that the end of the war is in sight."

"A Fight for Life."

Detroit Free Press:—"The fierce assaults of the Teutonic divisions are becoming more and more a fight for life and less and less part of an aggressive movement for conquest."

"The Russians."

Cleveland Plain Dealer:—"It is generally admitted that the Franco-Belgian forces would never be able, by a crushing invasion of Germany, to bring the kaiser to terms. Their endeavor is merely to keep busy a large part of the German forces while the Russians pursue their offensive campaign."

"Hope of the Allies."

"Difficult."

Pittsburgh Dispatch:—"In a battle line 150 miles long, nearly all of it fortified and some of it sustained by fortifications of great strength and consisting of a million or more men on each side, it is difficult, if not impossible, for an action to be a decisive victory or defeat."

"A Big Job."

Buffalo Courier:—"Lord Kitchener is to raise a British army of more than one million men. Nobody knows better than Kitchener that what he has set out to do is a mighty big job."

REFORM IN INDIANA.

(New York Tribune.)

It is easy enough to achieve reform in Indiana. With every other male citizen a novelist and every female a poet, hearts are continually uplifted and the call of the printed word is loud. As, for instance, in the present mighty campaign against the five "D's"—dirt, dampness, darkness, drink, disease prevention day, it was, last Friday, and all Indiana turned out to march in aid of the cause. Floats and banners, school girls dressed in white carrying mottoes, trumpets, bands, made great a day already memorable through these orders issued by the state board of health:

"Let every home, each front yard and back yard, the rear of stores, and all streets and alleys be made specially clean for Disease Prevention day. Let each person wear clean clothes on that day, take a bath, put on a clean shirt, clean socks and clean collar, and get his shoes shined. Get a hair cut and a shave, wash your hands and face, clean your finger nails, and don't spit on the sidewalk. Let everybody be clean and talk cleanliness and health."

In short, all Indiana took a bath. Nor did progress rest her wearied limbs here. After the scrubbing and polishing and parading came education, when such pithy little thoughts as these were inculcated upon the Indiana mind:

"The only good fly is the dead fly."
"Well kept alleys pay better dividends than well kept cemeteries."
"Public health is public wealth."
"Bat the rat and swat the fly."
"Don't take patent medicines."
"All the time is clean-up time."
"Dust, dirt, dampness, darkness, drink will always kill."

Rev. O. E. Tones Draws from Police Blotter for Sunday Discourse.

Fort Wayne police records involving arrests for drunkenness supplied the basis for a sermon on "What the Saloon Costs in Character," delivered by Rev. O. E. Tones at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ on Sunday.

"Officers Michael Laughlin and Charles Westerman while off duty were called on to keep Leo Bogner and his gang of Decatur sports from cleaning out the Edwin," said Rev. Mr. Tones. "What followed? Fight, broken heads, police station, court, fines and jail."

Rev. Mr. Tones then quoted from the police reports in the local newspapers during the past week, dealing with half a score of well known police characters. Continuing, he said in part:

"These only partly portray the ravages of the saloon in the realm of character. Such records are spread on the pages of the dailies in every city in the country where the saloon is allowed to run its business. Literally tens of thousands are ground through the police courts of the country weekly on the charge of 'plain drunk.' Other thousands are in the law courts for one crime or another as the direct result of the liquor traffic. Every crime means a criminal, and every criminal means a ruined character. That is the price we are paying for the saloon."

"Only a drunk! but if that drunk is your boy, your brother, your father, what a difference! Read the record in Monday's paper. Five or ten arrested and for everyone taken up for disorderly conduct a dozen go home to fight and brawl and 'sleep it off' in the presence of wife and children or mother. If a mad dog should bite one-half as many people as will be drunk in town today the whole police force would be gunning for that dog, yet the dog might even have a license, but that would make no difference, he would be a 'dead dog' as soon as one of our policemen got close enough to hit him. But no such treatment is accorded the business that spreads madness and disease and death throughout the community."

"Who made and sold the liquor that made 'Tony' Trentman drunk? Who will stand by his side at the judgment bar of God to give an account for the deeds done in the flesh? How far will we all be guilty for allowing the existence of an institution that causes drunks and debauchery, death and damnation? This business which takes two million dollars from the pockets of the people and gives in return a record of drunks must continue because it helps to pay taxes. This nefarious institution which contributes more than any other to bad government exists because we, the voters, allow it to live. It robs, it blights, it kills and our sensibilities have become hardened to it all. Talk about war, its brutality, its inhuman spirit! Those hundreds of thousands fighting like mad in Europe today are fighting for principle, or at least they think they are. They are driven into the conflict by patriotism, false though it may be. They are dying as heroes. But the liquor traffic is a premeditated thing. Calmly and knowingly the individual decides to enter the business. Deliberately the government has gone into business with him. That business kills its thousands and the government knows it. Wives and mothers weep over the fallen soldiers, but they are proud to give them to the country's service. Wives and mothers weep over the lives wrecked by strong drink and forever hang their heads in shame. War is respectable in comparison with this whole selfish, sinful business."

SHELLS ON AMERICAN SOIL.

Shots From Maytorena's Guns Drop Across Mexican Line.

Naco, Ariz., Oct. 12. Four shells from Governor Maytorena's guns fell on American territory Saturday night during a renewed attack by Villa adherents on the Carranza garrison of Naco, Sonora.

General Hill, commanding the garrison of Naco, lost eight killed and 57 wounded. Maytorena's loss is reported to be from 20 to 200.

One of the four shells wrecked a large residence. Another damaged property near the United States customs house. The others fell in a stock field and in a mercantile establishment.

Maytorena's Yaqui Indians attacked General Hill's troops entrenched in Naco, shortly before midnight. Hand to hand fighting in the trenches resulted. The engagement continued an hour before the Indians finally retired.

It was reported that a band of Yaquis were pursued east of Naco by General Hill's soldiers. Several Yaquis crossed the boundary line in order to attack the Naco garrison in the rear. They were promptly disarmed. Previously American soldiers were fired upon and returned the fire.

Salt-rising bread, also Graham whole wheat and rye bread, fresh every day, at Geller's, on Broadway; also at our branch stores.

$5,000,000 Wet and Dry War Envelops Nation--Fight in Five States Greatest in Country's History

Only one of the angles of the wet and dry campaign. An Alabama distillery, hoping to win over voters, is buying up large quantities of cotton in the "buy-a-bale" movement and exhibiting them, with its name printed on huge banners.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.—Wet or dry? Which?

Voters of five states will decide at the polls in November the biggest battle the two factions have ever experienced. Money is to be spent. The amount is estimated at $5,000,000.

Victory for either side will be decisive.

Whichever wins will dominate congress when it considers the Hobson resolution, which proposes an amendment to the constitution to end the liquor traffic in the United States.

Ten states Maine, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Oklahoma, Mississippi, North Dakota, and just recently, Virginia have already joined the dry column. In five more Ohio, California, Oregon, Washington and Colorado—prohibition is an issue. In the four western states women have the franchise.

The hardest fight is in Ohio and it is being waged on a titanic scale. A campaign fund six times as large as that of republicans, democrats and progressives combined is to be spent. Five times the number of workers in all other parties are in the field, and it is estimated that the wets and dries will give out ten times the campaign literature issued by all of the other parties.

Ohio wets made a desperate fight against local option, but they have given ground slowly. In the western states the fight was largely in the legislatures and on the size of the unit. In all of these states, however, only the larger towns and cities remain wet.

The fight against liquor centers in five states, but the saloon is a live issue in practically all of the others. Alabama dries are making the election of legislators their cause, for it is proposed to put the state back in the parched column. In Illinois the battle is being waged in localities which are still wet. Though interest is scattered, it is keen and the campaign is to conclude with 602 meetings of the dries in one week.

The prohibitionists, which have had, up to 1914, to make their fight alone, now have the support of some of the state political machines. Idaho will go dry at the meeting of the 1915 legislature, as the platforms of the republican, democratic and progressive parties have all declared for state-wide prohibition. The progressives have entered the fight in other states as well. In Ohio, Indiana, Maine, Kansas and Missouri they have taken a stand against the liquor traffic.

But the fight in the states is only preliminary to the big combat which is to be staged this winter in congress. The Hobson resolution, by mutual consent, was tabled last summer until after the election, but before the end of this year a trial of strength will be called for. And senators and representatives are expected to accept the November vote as expressing the will of the nation.

The amendment, if passed by congress, must be submitted to the states and ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths of them before it becomes a law. In the meantime the dries are working on congress to declare the District of Columbia a prohibition district.

YOUNG ARMOUR GOES TO WORK

Dressed as Laborer, He Attacks Job in Uncle's Stock Yard.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—They put on a new "hand" at the stockyards the other day. Wears overalls, high boots and a blue flannel shirt just like the rest of the "pig-stickers" and "butchers" but he doesn't carry a dinner pail and when he kicks off his rubber boots at six o'clock he doesn't tramp off to a shanty "back o' the yards," nor does he join the "bunch" of cattlemen at The Silver Dollar bar.

Nothing like that for a good looking young chap with square shoulders, the carefully brushed hair, and the soft white hands. It's a perfumed bath for him, and a red automobile to speed him away from the sickening odors of Packingtown to the gentle zephyrs of Lake Forest. For the new "hand" is none other than Phillip D. Armour III, namesake and grandson of the founder of the great American packing industry, just graduated from Yale and the very best tango stepper, and golf player at Lake Forest.

Young Armour is on the packing plant payroll as a cattle buyer, he works from seven in the morning until six at night. It will be four years before he graduates from the stockyards, and by that time he'll know exactly how much a fat steer weighs on the hoof, and he'll be able to recognize a Missouri "razor-back" wherever he meets him, and he'll know at a glance just how much hard cash the steer and the razorback represent in the way of canned beef and pork sausage.

In going to work as a day laborer in the "pens" young Armour is following the example of his father, and his uncle.

Rescues Quartet Endangered When Auto Plunges Into Bayou.

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 12.—Crossing Bayou Manchac, near here, the automobile of L. U. Babin, of Baton Rouge, slid off the antiquated ferry and plunged into eighteen feet of water. Lloyd Babin, eleven, his aunt and uncle, L. U. Babin and wife, and the former's aged father, were penned by the auto canopy. Lloyd managed to free himself as Babin got his wife and old father loose. The boy reached the ferry and when the panic-stricken negro operator didn't heed his cries to help save his aunt and uncle the youngster pushed him into the water. Mrs. Babin grabbed the negro by the neck and kept afloat while Lloyd swam to her with a rope, one end of which was tied to the ferry. All grabbed the rope and were saved—the aunt and uncle, old man and the negro—by the heroism of Lloyd. Effort is being made to get Lloyd a Carnegie medal.

CASE IS BAFFLING ONE.

Chicago Man Sleeps 100 Hours Without Awakening.

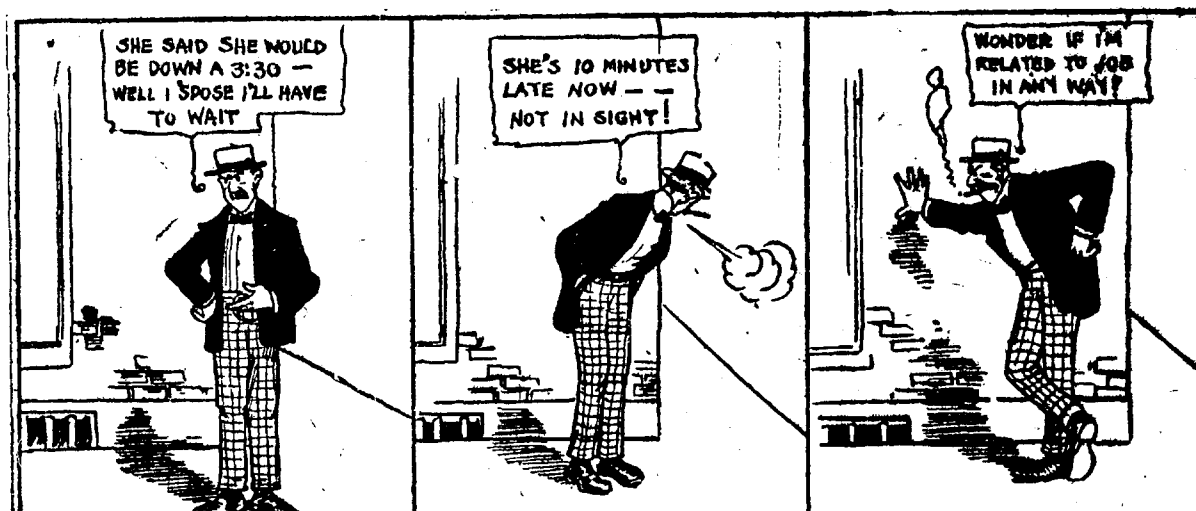

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Charles Freeman has lain in a state of semi-coma at the Alexian brothers' hospital for the past 100 hours. He presents one of the most baffling and interesting cases Chicago physicians have ever encountered.

Freeman, who is fifty-three years old, sat down in a chair after work to "smoke a pipeful before going home." He apparently went to sleep, but all efforts to arouse him by his companions were futile.

Mrs. Freeman said her husband had had a similar attack of this nature when he was a boy thirteen years old and lived in Memphis, Tenn.

"His parents thought he was dead and had prepared for his funeral," she said. "My husband told me of it. He said he remained unconscious for several days. He came to while they were dressing him for the casket. Physicians then were unable to diagnose the case and gave it up. But he has never had another attack until now."

riage of their only daughter, Clara Belle, to Mr. Frank Cour, which took place on Saturday morning at half past 10 o'clock at the bride's home. Neither bride nor groom were attended. The marriage service was read by Rev. Edward Montgomery, pastor of the Third Presbyterian church, of which the bride is a member. Only the immediate relatives were present and there were covers for twelve

at the elaborate breakfast served after

a handsome king's blue broadcloth tailored suit made with long tulle and fashionable coat, white lace blouse

and a black velvet hat trimmed with

bird of paradise feather. The bride wore a corsage bouquet of chrysanthemums of a new variety known as the October frost. The bride is fair and

very pretty and her wedding costume

set off her appearance in good style.

The house was beautifully decorated with branches of woodbine, now in its

coscomb. The breakfast table made a charming bit of coloring that harmonized with the house, as a center piece of a tall green basket with handle was filled with pink snapdragons. At noon

the bride and groom left for Clear lake,

AT THE MAJESTIC."Why Girls Leave Home"—Majestic

This Evening.

An unusually big Monday afternoon

house witnessed the opening performance of "Why Girls Leave Home," in which the Oscar F. Cook Stock company

will be seen again this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Majestic theater. The show is the kind

that appeals directly to the elemental

company's second appearance in Fort

Wayne in this production and scores

of the people that saw this affair

in the past have seen it before, but

"wanted to enjoy it again," as one man phrased it.

Special Matinee for "The Dummy."

Barney, the boy detective, is the latest of a long line of stage detectives,

and the hero of "The Dummy," the

six months at the Hudson theater, New

York, and which will be the attraction

at the Majestic theater Wednesday,

matinee and night.

"The Dummy" is the most novel and amusing play of the New York season,

a yellow book detective plot of a kidnapping case, its four acts ranging from

gambling house to a "Babes in the Woods" climax as whimsical as a Lewis

Carroll fairy tale.

Louise Dunbar and Associated Players

in "The Wolf."

"The Wolf," with Louise Dunbar and

associated players will be offered at the

Majestic for an engagement of three days, starting Thursday. "The Wolf" is a romantic drama of the Hudson Bay

Fur company; in three acts and three

concerns vengeance wreaked upon an

fore the story opens, had deserted a half-breed girl of the north. The marriage girl, Annette, dies in a storm, but in Montreal there lives a half-brother, who had promised his dying father to search for the girl. He discovers McDonald is the man he seeks and that he is tempting Hilda, the daughter of a Scotch

AT THE TEMPLE.

One of the most diverting little novelties seen on a Fort Wayne vaudeville stage in a long time, is the soap bubble blowing act done by Ollie Young and

This little act from toyland is not only delightfully pleasing but is intensely interesting, as Young and April have brought the fashioning of soap bubbles to high art. They blow them singly, in pair, in clusters, huge bubbles and little bubbles, feathery ones and ones with skins so tough that a miniature billiard table with a cue.

They blow bubbles that explode in a sheet of flame. It's an act the grown vaudeville fans will like and

Which Would You Choose-- Children or Leper Husband?

This Wife Took the Husband and Will Never See Babies Again—"In His Hour of Doom When Everyone Abandons Him I Am Proud to Remain and Share His Martyrdom," She Declares.

By Nicola Greeley-Smith. Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 12.—Husband or children—wife-love or mother-love—which? Mary Norman chose the husband. She will never see her children again. And the husband she chose is a leper.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 10 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by him. NAT. BANK OF COMMERCE, Toledo, Ohio. Sold by all Druggists. This Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Joseph Norman, a young man thirty-two years of age, in Wilkesbarre. The little lot on which it stands is guarded by a stretch of heavy rope, which no one from the outside may pass and beyond which Joseph Norman may not stray. For Norman, until a few weeks ago, a happy young husband and father of two chubby little boys, six and two years old, has been pronounced a sufferer from leprosy and henceforth must be shunned by all men.

Already no friend of other days attempts to pass the hempen barrier which confines the leper to his home. Yet that home still holds today all that made its happiest hours. For Joseph Norman's wife has refused to leave him and as yet her two little children have not been taken away.

Touched by Mrs. Norman's plea that she be permitted to share her husband's fate, Edwin B. Morgan, city commissioner of health, has agreed to permit her to remain in her home. But he declares that the two little boys must leave. "It would be a crime to permit the children to grow up with a leper," he said. Confronted by the terrible tragedy of having to choose between her husband or her children Mrs. Norman did not hesitate. She gave herself, as good women always do, to the greater need. "My sons have health and friends to love and care for them. My husband now has only me. Everybody shuns him—is afraid of him. But I love him more than ever, and whether he stays here or is sent away to a leper colony he will find me by his side. What I do is nothing—only what I gave my word to God to do when I married Joe and took him for better or worse."

Joseph Norman owns the home to which he may be confined for the rest of his life with no living companion save the devoted wife who has refused to leave him. Until a few months ago he worked in a rope factory in Wilkesbarre and had saved money enough to pay off the mortgage on the little home he had bought for his wife and their children, Leo and George.

Then a peculiar eruption appeared on his skin. Local physicians told him at first that it was eczema, but finally advised him to go to Philadelphia for treatment. In that city the authorities of the hospital he visited pronounced him a tubercular leper, placed him in an automobile and rushed him back to his home at night, sending word to the Wilkesbarre authorities that "your leper is in his home again."

Then an employee of the Wilkesbarre health department visited the Norman home and took Mrs. Norman and the children away. The wife thought she had to go. But the next day she took her eldest boy and visited the office of Health Commissioner Morgan, threw herself on her knees before him, begged to be allowed to share her husband's living tomb.

Touched by the woman's tears the official consented, telling her, however, that to return to Norman meant that she would never see her little children again.

The woman, who made this remarkable choice is young and comely. She has dark hair and eyes which shine with the light of a great heroism. Standing outside the rope which must forever separate her from the outer world, I talked with this wonderful martyr to wifely love. "I have not done anything extraordinary," she said. "I vowed to take my husband for better or worse, and worse has come to him! In his hour of doom when everyone abandons him I am proud to remain and share his martyrdom. I have read about other times when the leper had to carry a bell and ring it to warn people that he was coming along the road and that he had to call out, "Unclean! Unclean!" so that those who were afraid could hide themselves.

"It is not so very different today. Nobody wants my husband. The United States government has refused to allow him to go and live in a leper colony. It wrote Superintendent Morgan that it has no provision for the national care of lepers and that each city must care for its own. They leave our food outside and I take it in. They have not decided yet what to do with us. But wherever they send my husband I will go with him. I will care for him always. And if I, too, become a leper that will be just another bond between us. I love him and I am not afraid!"

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

News AlwaysCHAMPIONS READY FOR HARD FIGHT
TO STOP THE MARCH OF THE BRAVESAlmost the Last Ditch for the Mackmen and They Went Into the Monday Game All Keyed Up for a Strong Fight.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Fenway park, scene of memorable games in the world's series of 1912, was ready Monday for staging the third game in the series of 1914, between the Boston Braves, winners in the National league, and the Philadelphia American league champions and defenders of the world's title. It was almost a last ditch defense which the men from Philadelphia prepared to make during the afternoon, as their opponents had won both of the games already played. Victorious today, the Bostonians will need only one game to gain the world's base ball honors.

Weather conditions could not have been better. A bright sun developed an atmosphere of summer, tempered somewhat by a cooling breeze from the southwest. Thousands of persons moved on Fenway park during the morning to join the hundreds who had held places during the night in lines that led to the bleacher entrances. The first few arrived at noon Sunday; by night fall the waiting numbered a score, at midnight the line was 200 strong and as the sun rose over the back bay fens there were more than 500 people in six lines. Some slept on the ground, others had brought straw, a few had equipped themselves with comforts.

Bonfires to keep them warm. Bonfires were started, but were extinguished by police who stood guard through the night. There were nearly 20,000 rush seats, 5,000 of which were to be had for 50 cents each. The others sold for $1. It was required that the purchaser enter the grounds immediately and thus precluded speculation. With 15,000 grandstand seats disposed of, indications were that the number of spectators would be about 35,000. This would mean receipts of $65,000.

Boston went into this afternoon's game a strong favorite for the series. A conference of Manager Connie Mack and the Athletic players at their hotel Sunday night had given the Philadelphia new hope. A change in their style of play was expected, the plan of campaign previously decided upon having proved entirely inadequate.

Only desperate measures, it was believed, could bring the champions on even terms with the Braves and these they were prepared to take. The Athletics, one of the fastest teams in baseball, have stolen only one base in two games. This was one department of play in which they planned to take more chances.

Can't Steal First Base.

But bases cannot be stolen until first is reached and the Boston pitchers have given few Mackmen an opportunity to reach the first station. The Philadelphia have gotten but seven hits in two games from the deliveries of Rudolph and James. No man on the entire Philadelphia team who has been at bat more than once has an average of .300. The best is Strunk at .296. Such heavy hitters as Eddie Collins and "Home Run" Baker have gotten only one hit each and have averaged, respectively, .166 and .143. Oldring, Melius and Barry, all rated as good hitters, have gone without a hit in five and six times at bat. Never in world's series history have so many consistent hitters slumped.

Whether Manager Stallings could again choose his pitcher so wisely as to keep Philadelphia hits at a minimum was a question. In the usual order of things Tyler would be pitcher. Tyler is considered to be of the rather poor showings made by the encouragement of a home crowd and an advantage to his team to be at his best. Both elements were present in the situation and it was thought that his port side crossfire would issue from the Boston box. The "miracle man," however, would not commit himself. He mentioned Rudolph and Hase, the latter a veteran of many campaigns, as possibilities in the same breath with Tyler. Manager Mack's problem was a more serious one. He, veteran, Bender and Plank, master pitchers, both have fallen before the Boston bats. Bender was an idol was knocked from his pedestal, being forced from the game. Plank retained some honor in holding the Braves runless for eight innings.

Only the young pitchers were left for choice. Prominent among these was Bush, nicknamed "Bullet Joe," who pitched his team to victory over New York in the third game of the series last year, and pitched himself, a recruit, into a place in the world's series hall of fame. Harry Davis, former captain, and now the coach of the Athletics, said he thought Bush would be selected.

Bresler, a left-handed youth with little experience, but with a baffling curve and cool head, was considered a likely candidate. He lost only two games during the American league season. The players of both teams having rested Sunday, and retired early, were about the hotels early Monday forenoon. All reported themselves in good condition. Rudolph said he was holding himself in readiness to pitch if necessary. "I asked Stallings last night whether I was likely to start," Rudolph said, "but he only told me to stand by. I am fit as a fiddle and ready to go back again, and I can beat those birds again, believe me. But I think George Tyler will get the word. Just watch him."

The players of both teams were discussing a statement by Empire Byron, who gave decisions on the bases in the engagement Saturday. The writer said that had Maranville failed to complete the double play which ended the game he would still have declared the side out, because in his opinion Walsh's collision with Maranville a moment after the latter had shot the ball to first base was a deliberate attempt at interference. Maranville would say nothing about the matter except, "I got the throw away and that's all that I was interested in. After that the game was over."

HARD TO SECURE FOOT BALL TEAM

Friar Schedule Open and Committee at Work—
Mapleton Easy.

Members of the Friar Athletic board are unable to announce the name of the club that will play here next Sunday because they have not secured a booking and after the rather poor showings made by the Mapleton Athletic club they will make thorough investigations before they make a contract.

There is one thing certain, however, and that is that the Friars have improved wonderfully in their play because the Mapleton team is one that all of the other independents entertain a high opinion of and a defeat of 28 to 6 is something that will create proper respect for the Friar aggregation.

About 500 people saw the game, and it proved the contention of the management, that men known clubs must be sought out and brought here. Corby, hall or Wabash would have drawn three times as many people. Every effort is being made to land a good club for the next game and as soon as this is done most of the troubles of the athletic board will have been overcome as the rest of the schedule is with clubs that are certain to make showings.

Efforts to land a team from Detroit failed, and one of the greatest of all difficulties is to get the best independent clubs to leave their own grids. They are looking for games and would readily book the Friars for a game on their fields but the local aggregation cannot afford to leave home.

Ten minutes after the game started on Sunday the Friars had found the weakness of the enemy and after piling up a score in the first period that insured victory they began the execution of a number of plays that had been worked out in practice and this made the game interesting and also gave the local griders a workout for the difficult schedule they will face after the game next Sunday.

Port Wayne had the ball most of the time from the jump and a little play in the second quarter would have kept the enemy scoreless through the game. Ellenwood had not played until the game, but he showed excellent condition and did some defensive work that promised good results in the remaining games.

Island, the Indian player, was in part of the game but he had not played before this season and was taken out because he was winded. A second leg broke in the second half, and was taken home last night by his teammates after Dr. J. E. McArdle had dressed the injured member.

BARE FEET A FIRE ALARM.

Girl Student's Toes Discover Blaze in Dormitory.

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—The bare feet of Miss Jean Largeman, a seventeen-year-old student at the Rebecca Gratz house, 721 North Sixth street, served the admirable purpose early in the morning of a fire alarm when a blaze, starting in the dormitory, threatened to destroy the four-story building.

Miss Largeman was awakened when her feet, which were sticking beyond the covers, became unpleasantly warm. This fact aroused her curiosity, and as the night air was somewhat chilly, and as a result she discovered the fire. The flames had spread from an adjoining room, and were dangerously near her bed. Jumping up, she called Miss Rose Sorkin, another girl, and they gave the alarm.

In an instant forty-six young women in night attire made their escape from the building, some down the fire escapes and others out the doors. Their presence of mind and lack of hysteria prevented a panic. The fire was extinguished before it caused much damage.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12.—By working her way around the world by her wits, Miss Hilda Gilbert won for Jack London, the famous novelist, a $5,000 wager.

the enclosure. A force of carpenters repaired the fence. All this was three hours before game time. When the crowd was not surging it was cheering. Outside the fences, unable to gain admittance, thousands clamored vainly to get in. The gates were closed, however, and barred by the police.

Weather—Ideal. An Indian summer day was furnished for the contest. The sun glowed brightly in a clear sky and the air was balmy. The playing field was flint dry and lightning fast. Betting was 10 to 7 on the Boston to take the series. Wagers at these odds were made at noon.

Batting practice was lively and the long drives of the home club were vigorously cheered by the crowd. Gowdy, heavy hitter of the first game, smashed a ball into the temporary bleachers. Fielding practice was mechanically perfect and executed with a snap and brilliancy that stirred the spectators to salvos of applause. Maranville and Evers, Barry and Collins working around the middle section made chain-lightning pivot plays and scintillating scoops and stops.

Before play was called, Captain Evers of the Boston team was presented with an automobile in recognition of being the most valuable player to his team in the national league. Ira Thomas went into the box and pitched during the Athletic workout. It looked as though they expected Rudolph to face them. Schunk has been suffering from a bad finger during the series and it was said Walsh would play center field in this play today.

Manager Stalling was presented with a diamond stick pin and a gold ball by Mayor Curley, of Boston, on behalf of the city government. John Evers was presented with a gold bat by Mayor Curley.

TO OPEN CHICAGO BANK.

Class C Directors Arrange Plans With Federal Reserve Bank.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The three Class C directors of the Chicago Federal reserve bank, C. H. Bosworth, of Chicago; W. J. McAllen, of Columbia City, Ind.; and Edwin T. Meredith, of Des Moines, Ia., have conferred with the federal reserve board on plans for opening the Chicago bank. The board told the three directors that it is anxious to have the arrangements for putting the bank into operation completed as soon as possible.

The three directors will go from here to Chicago, where there will be a meeting of the full directorate for the purpose of electing a governor and a vice governor of the bank. Mr. McAllen told the board that he proposes to move from Columbia City to Chicago in order that he may give his entire time to the reserve bank. Mr. Meredith does not expect to give up his publishing business in Des Moines.

TONER ISSUES STATEMENT.

Says Progressives Favor Movement for Constitutional Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—Edward C. Toner, chairman of the progressive state committee, has issued a statement strongly supporting the movement for a constitutional convention for Indiana. "We are urging the people not only to vote for a constitutional convention," he says in reference to the work of the state progressive organization, but to organize and make a comprehensive campaign and induce a majority of all the voters to vote 'Yes' on the white ballot in November. There may be no particular partisanship in the demand for a new constitution, yet it is true that the fundamental strength of the progressive party lies in the fact that it has made a great fight for the people on the issue of a new constitution."

SAYS INEQUALITIES ARE LESS.

Director of Mint Discusses Distribution of Wealth.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Discussing complaints of inequality of the distribution of wealth, George E. Roberts, director of the mint, addressed at a banquet the closing session of the convention of farm mortgage brokers. The speaker held that at bottom there is nothing to be equalized but personal expenditures, which, he said, raised the question whether captains of industry consume an undue share of the products of the country, or whether there would be more products for general distribution under government ownership. He said that present differences among citizens as to food, clothing, opportunities for culture—all the really good things of life—were less than ever before.

County Buildings Open, But Little Business Goes on Holiday.

Discovery day, a legal holiday in honor of Christopher Columbus, was manifested about the court house Monday, notwithstanding the big county building was open throughout and the courts were in session. Very little was doing outside the daily routine. No cases of special importance were heard and no new suits of moment were filed. Not even a marriage license had been issued up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Aged Man Gets a Divorce. In the superior court Monday morning Judge Yaph granted a decree of divorce to Cyrus K. Fairfield, one of the oldest surviving residents of Allen county. It was shown that the plaintiff's wife, Belle A. Fairfield, had deserted and abandoned him several years ago and that she is now residing in Babylon, Long Island. The two were married in 1882. The plaintiff gave his age as 78 years. He comes of one of the earliest pioneer families in Allen county and is widely known.

Files Amended Complaint. Cyril C. Baxter has filed in the superior court an amended complaint for divorce from Edna Baxter. He piles up many serious charges against her, saying that she nagged and abused him, did not prepare his meals, did not keep her house in order and gave violent display of temper when he reproved her for untidiness. He alleges that last June she went to a dance and spent most of the time in the arms of a man on the porch of the house. She is further charged with having kept company with a painter named Hanna and to have displayed her affection for him in the presence of the Baxters' five-year-old child and in view of the neighbors. Baxter asks custody of the child.

Notes of the Courts. Wolf & Dossauer have filed suit in the circuit court against M. E. Rice and Lee J. Ivins demanding $150 on mechanics' lien. The suit involves a bill for improvements made upon a house owned by Rice which he sold to Ivins.

J. George Lauer has brought suit in the superior court against George Dager and Frederick and Elizabeth Keller, men on mechanics' lien, demanding $850. The superior court has granted a divorce to Frances E. Burgoyne from Thomas Burgoyne.

James C. Carnahan, receiver in the suit of Robert and Charles Burgess vs. Jacob Harrison, et al., has filed his final report in the superior court and has been discharged.

Theodore Havert has filed suit in the superior court against Emma Hart for foreclosure of a mechanics' lien, demanding $180.

FRED BUSHMAN IS ASSESSOR.

Qualifies as Successor to Brother as Wayne Township Official.

Fred Bushman on Monday accepted the appointment as assessor of Wayne township to succeed his brother, the late John A. Bushman, whose death took place last week following a prolonged illness. The new appointee at once filed his bond and took possession of the office. The appointment was made by County Auditor Calvin H. Brown, upon the duty involved by law. The new assessor will make no changes in the force of deputies who had assisted his brother in the office. The appointment is considered an eminently good one and it is believed Auditor Brown's choice will give general satisfaction.

County Auditor Calvin H. Brown has announced that all registration employees will receive their pay in the auditor's office Tuesday. The commissioners look over the claims and allow the bills.

PUSHING THE CONTRACTORS.

Mayor and Board of Works Put Spurs to City Workers.

Mayor Hosey and Messrs. Singrey, Keely and Hilgeman, of the board of public works, put in a good part of Monday visiting the various contractors engaged upon municipal improvements and urged them to make more rapid progress. With cold weather not far off the administration is anxious to have all public work now under way cleaned up before a hard freeze interferes. Contractors were told to increase their forces and speed up. Several important paving jobs must be completed this fall, Maumee avenue, Wayne trace, Grant avenue and Putnam street being among them. It is believed that the Maumee avenue job can be completed within a week.

A NEW CONSTITUTION FOR INDIANA

The voters of Indiana will be called upon at the election of November 3rd to pass upon the question of calling a convention to revise the present state constitution. The most vital question that confronts the state to-day is this question of a new constitution. To vote intelligently on it will require a careful study of the situation in Indiana on the part of the voters. It is important that they should have full information as to the conditions imposed on the people by the present constitution and of the opportunities afforded by constitutional revision to better the situation.

The question will be put up to the voters by independent ballot on plain white paper 4 inches square containing the words, "ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION IN THE YEAR 1915?"

In order to carry the proposition, a majority of all voters of the state voting at this election must vote "YES." The normal vote in Indiana for candidates is about 100,000. Of this number at least 350,000 must vote "YES" to carry the question, regardless of the number of "NO" votes. An effect, those who do not vote at all on the proposition are counted against the convention. The ignorant and indifferent voter thus constitutes a tremendous handicap on the movement to secure constitutional revision. It is not, therefore, too much to ask that every voter seek to prepare himself to vote on the question and with full understanding of his act.

The legislative act also provides in detail for the next three steps to ward revision in the event that the vote of November 3rd carries. A special election will be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, 1915, for the election of delegates to the convention. These will be 150 in number, apportioned throughout the state in the same manner as members of the General Assembly now are apportioned. Any qualified voter may be a candidate for delegate from his district by filing a petition signed by 100 voters of the district. No political party shall be permitted to nominate candidates. The election shall be non-partisan in every particular.

The purpose of the act is plainly to secure a delegate convention which will be fairly representative of all the people of the state and to remove the necessity of serving partisan interests. It is to be fundamentally a people's convention. The delegates elected shall meet in Indianapolis on the first Monday in May, 1915, and

The members of the convention shall receive a per diem of ten dollars per day and mileage, and shall not remain in session longer than one hundred and eighty (180) days, Sundays excepted.

It is to be noted that this movement for a new constitution is not in any way connected with the proposed new constitution of 1911—the so-called "Marshall Constitution"—which was written by the Legislature of that year. This "Marshall Constitution," which was a copy of the present constitution, with 23 Articles amended, was never submitted to the people for adoption or rejection, for the reason that its presentation by the Legislature was declared unconstitutional on the ground that the Legislature was without authority.

The important fact of the present movement for a new constitution is that it comes from no partisan source. Its advocates are appealing to no prejudices nor to any special interests. They are using only educational means. It offers a rare opportunity for the people of Indiana to acquaint themselves with the big fundamental facts of their state government, and to make their influence felt in shaping and directing its future functions.

U. S. NURSES AS "SISTERS."

Washington, Oct. 12.—American Red Cross nurses on route to European battlefields will be known as "Sisters," writes Miss Helen Hay, general superintendent of the nurses, in a letter made public last night by Red Cross headquarters.

Miss Hay, now known as "Sister Helen," explains that the custom was adopted because it will be easier for the sick and wounded to remember Christian names prefixed by "Sister" than if the American style of "Miss Hay" was resorted to.

Ohio Boy, Blind and Deaf, Battles Against Huge Odds.

Columbus, O., Oct. 12.—Leslie Oren, a high school graduate of Wilmington, O., is blind and deaf. Until recently he was dumb, and now he has an additional affliction—he is almost heartbroken. Having graduated last June from high school, Leslie expected to enter the state university at Columbus this fall. But he needed more than books to carry on his studies. He needed an interpreter who could read the language of the blind and speak the lip language of the deaf. The university faculty included no teacher who could assist the speechless, sightless boy, and though every effort was made to find one, the search was fruitless. Leslie was refused admittance to the university.

Although he declares he is "heartbroken with disappointment," the much afflicted youth refuses to abandon his quest for learning, and he has entered the state institution for the blind, where he will receive four hours' instruction in college studies each day.

"I regret that I have not kept any record of the funerals I have attended," Turner said. "However, I am absolutely safe in estimating that I have attended 975 funerals a year for the last twenty-four years. That's just a little better than one a day."

Turner has been in every cemetery within a radius of twenty miles of Detroit. He is only forty-two years old.

ENGLISH TRADE RECOVERS.

Report Says Commerce Has Improved Since First Shock of War.

Washington, Oct. 12.—All branches of trade in England during September showed gains over the figures for August, according to a statement given out today by the British embassy here. It is stated that, according to the board of trade reports, the increases extended to all the principal classes of articles which, it is claimed, proves that the trade of the nation has made excellent recovery from the first shock of war. The gain in imports is said to have been nearly three million pounds sterling; in home exports 2,500,000 pounds, and in foreign and colonial exports 750,000 pounds. Exported naval and military stores are not included in these figures.

CRUSHED WHEN CABOOSE UPSET

Henry O. Rogers Killed and Two Others Injured Near Columbia City.

Henry O. Rogers, a Pennsylvania conductor, was instantly killed and flagman H. V. Schroyer and brakeman O. Henning were slightly injured at 1:48 o'clock Monday morning when the caboose in which they were riding left the rails and went on its side one and one-half miles west of Columbia City.

HENRY O. ROGERS.

The train was eastbound and was running at fifty miles an hour, according to Engineer D. H. Monahan and Fireman L. C. Faulkner, who were in the cab of the locomotive pulling it, when the accident happened. When a search for Conductor Rogers was made, he was found lying clear of wreckage at the point where the caboose turned over and the circumstances indicated that he had gone outside to receive or answer some signal and was on the platform when the car was turned over. An examination of the body revealed only one mark—a bad bruise and cut at the base of the skull, probably inflicted by a large piece of stone ballast.

Mr. Schroyer and Mr. Henning remained in the caboose when it went on its side and their injuries were not severe and they were able to assist others in searching for Mr. Rogers. The injured men came to the city on No. 18 this morning, went to the St. Joseph hospital, where their wounds were examined and dressed and were then permitted at their own request to go to their homes.

The body of Conductor Rogers was turned over to the coroner of Whitley county, who after an investigation, delivered it to Engineer F. H. Rogers, a nephew of the deceased, who will bring it to the city on No. 8 tonight.

The accident was due to a broken wheel on the car next to the caboose. The deceased was born December 14, 1862, and would have been fifty-one years old next December. He was unmarried and when in the city made his home at 1815 Francis street. He began railroad work as a freight brakeman on the Pennsylvania February 18, 1889, January 9, 1890, he was promoted to freight conductor and November 18, 1910, he was advanced to the passenger service. When the reduction in passenger crews took place a short time ago, Mr. Rogers was returned to the freight service.

H. O. Rogers was a Mason and a member of Port Wayne commandery No. 4, Knights Templar. He was also a member of Division No. 110, Order of Railway Conductors, and of the Pennsylvania Relief union.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon and will be under the auspices of the Knights Templar and the Order of Railway Conductors.

Surviving the deceased are the following brothers and sister—Charles Rogers of Port Wayne, John Rogers, of John James Rogers, a mill man in northern Michigan; Marcus Rogers, residing somewhere in California, and the sister, Grace, whose name could not be learned, who is married and resides in Detroit. As far as possible, these relatives have been notified and will be at the funeral. Engineer Frank H. Rogers and Engineer W. W. Rogers, of the Pennsylvania, were nephews of the deceased.

Both Mr. Schroyer and Mr. Henning were extra freight conductors and were serving temporarily in the capacity of brakeman and flagman until traffic increased to the point where their services would be needed as conductors.

Conductor Dinger Victim of Distressing Accident.

H. P. Dinger, of 1630 East Lewis street, a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania, suffered a broken ankle this morning at 7 o'clock. He was serving as a flagman on extra westbound 9009, and as he was getting off the caboose to assist in shifting some cars at a station on the west end of the line, he stepped upon a stone and it turned, spraining and breaking the bones of his left ankle. Mr. Dinger was brought to the city on 52 at noon today and taken to his home, instead of at the hospital, at his own request. Mr. Dinger was among the conductors who were put back to the ranks a few months ago when the number of crews was reduced.

WAITERS' UNION IS BOOMING.

No. 489, Cooks and Waiters' union, one of the youngest of Port Wayne labor organizations, has taken on great activity since the meeting of the State Federation, particularly in the way of adding to the membership, which today approximates 125. At a meeting a week ago Sunday fifteen applicants were admitted to membership and at a meeting tomorrow night at least fifteen applications will be acted upon. At this meeting the question of increasing the admittance fee to $5 and the hearing of the reports of the delegates to the State Federation will also come up.

JOHN BARRY VERY SICK.

The condition of Machinist John Barry, of the Pennsylvania air brake department, who has been ailing for two years, suddenly grew worse this morning and his father, Owen Barry, the blacksmith, was summoned home in haste. It is feared that the young man cannot survive the attack.

Marriage Views Stir Feminists

Coningsby Dawson

New York, Oct. 8.—Would a woman rather be an unhappy wife than a spinster who is merely contented? Would a woman sacrifice peace and comfort for the privilege of tacking "Mrs." to her name?

These questions raised by Coningsby Dawson in his new book, "The Raft," has called forth a storm of protest from the feminists who sternly deny the implied charge that women cannot be happy in single blessedness.

The keynote of the book is found in the heroine's lament, "We are two girls adrift on a raft. Over there the land of marriage with all the little children, the homes and the husbands; unless some of the men see us and put off in boats to our rescue we'll be swept into the hunger of mid-ocean."

signed this morning to return to his old home in Ohio.

George Bugert, a cabinet maker, and George Dierstein, an upholsterer at the Pennsylvania shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

Merl Kimble, of the punch press department of the Electric works, who had been off duty on account of sickness, returned to work this morning.

E. C. DesPres, machinist, who had an eye hurt three weeks ago, was able to resume work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Machinist W. H. Miller has recovered from an illness and resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

The Pennsylvania has installed a spur track leading from the main line at Hanna street into the Krudop coal yards, on Francis street.

The meeting of the Federation of Labor tonight will be important as it will include the closing up of matters connected with the late State Federation meeting.

The Lake Shore put its manual block signal system in operation on the Port Wayne branch yesterday, completing the extension to every branch of the system.

R. J. Fisher left today for St. Louis on business for the Bass Foundry and Machine company. This is Mr. Fisher's first business trip out since his return from California a week ago.

The resignation of Herbert Smith as vice-president of local 22, Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, has been followed by the election of Paul Bohm to that office. Mr. Bohm is employed in the Wabash shops.

A derrick and two crews of men from Peru began active operations in laying the slabs on the Harrison street subway of the Wabash road this morning, and the work will now be pushed to a speedy completion.

A few of the men in the general testing department of the Port Wayne Electric works were engaged Saturday afternoon and Sunday in testing and preparing a machine for shipment to Chicago.

Telegraph Operator J. J. Wilkinson, of the G. R. & L., and Parcel Man Joseph Shea, at the Pennsylvania passenger station, were each operated upon Saturday, the former for hernia and the latter for appendicitis. They are getting along first rate.

Switchman G. P. Davis, of the Pennsylvania, has resumed work. He was east visiting in Pittsburgh and later in and about Crestline, where he has a number of friends and relatives. Crestline is Mr. Davis' native place and where he began his railway career.

Engineer H. E. Fisher will resume a through freight run on the Pennsylvania. For several months he had a local run between Lima and Crestline, but is now here to go into through freight service. For the past two weeks he has been on a farm in Ohio, resting.

George Lawton, who was employed in the lamp department of the Port Wayne Electric works about ten years ago, was a caller at the works this morning. During his absence from the city Mr. Lawton has been employed in various cities of the west, but may decide to locate here in the future.

H. A. Koenig, who will represent the local Car Workers' union at New York, beginning October 20 and continuing in session a week, will leave in a few days and will be accompanied by Mrs. Koenig. After the convention Mr. and Mrs. Koenig will visit relatives in Dover, N. J., and spend a few days at Buffalo and Niagara Falls before returning home.

As a nucleus to a sick benefit fund the "Bartenders' union will raise money by giving a ball some time this fall. This subject was introduced by W. A. Jackson at a meeting two weeks ago, but no definite action was taken at that time. The matter has been discussed by the members, however, and they will carry the ball proposition to a consummation.

Business Agent C. H. Johnson, of the local Machinists' union, is doing a good work in finding employment for the unemployed machinists. Saturday he sent T. G. Heckman, one of the suspended men from the Wayne Oil Tank works, to Decatur, Ill., to work in the Wabash shops and he now has employment for two other machinists who are willing to leave the city.

A guest at the home of Passenger Engineer Henry Strasser and wife, is Peter Redding, late a member of the United States army, but recently discharged by expiration of the enlisted term. Mr. Redding was a member of the Fourth artillery and was at Vera

ONLY A GILDED TOWER REMAINS

London, Oct. 12.—"The fiercest fighting during the last fortnight," says Reuter's Paris correspondent, "centered around Albert, Roze and Lassigny. Not an acre of ground in this region is without traces of the terrific struggle. Albert, which was first regained from the Germans, is a heap of ruins. Only the gilded clock tower remains. Roze sustained an uninterrupted bombardment for a fortnight and no longer exists. Lassigny was the stronghold of the enemy, being the point of the wedge which the Germans were endeavoring to drive into the allies.

"The struggle in this region had much of the same character as that on the right bank of the Aisne. Around Roze, like around Soissons, the Germans made the most of the quarries in establishing a defensive, necessitating a regular siege on the part of the allies. There, as in many other places, the enemy had prepared his ground in time of peace."

The D. S. O.—Abbreviation for "Distinguished Service Order," a British order of merit now nearly thirty years old. It was instituted on November 9, 1886, with the idea of rewarding naval and military officers for acts of gallantry not quite deserving of the V. C.

It is an enameled Maltese cross with a crimson center, bearing a crown on one side and the Royal cipher on the other. The ribbon is red with blue edging. The V. C. carries no social precedence, but the Companion of the Distinguished Service Order is entitled to walk in front of eldest sons of younger sons of peers, baronets' eldest sons and others.

For the bluejacket or the soldier, the counterpart of the D. S. O. is the D. C. M., or Distinguished Conduct Medal.

INVENTORS

A party of men were discussing the world's great inventors and inventions.
Each had his favorite. Morse and the telegraph, Marconi and the wireless, Whitney and the cotton gin, Bell and the telephone, Wright and the aero-plane, Edison and the electric light—each had his own vociferous champion. When a lull came in the conversation a little man who had previously kept quiet piped up and said: "Yes, those men were all great men, but let me tell you that the man who invented interest was no slouch."
The little man was right. Interest has filled the world with peace and comfort, even if it has bankrupted some fellows that didn't know his force. Four per cent on savings in Southland beauties who started the ate a market for the southern farmer's greatest commodity.

In Atlanta the plan of women to wear cotton goods started when the City Federation of Women's Clubs declared such action would be heroic as well as beautiful.
Daughters of the old confederacy said, "We'll dress as our mothers and grandmothers did for the sake of Georgia and Dixie. We'll do our part in fighting the south's cause."
But the first to wear cotton goods were heroic. It was harder to do than to promise. Mrs. Omar F. Elder, earnest matron, and Miss Louise Riley, pretty leader of the younger set, were the first actually to start to wearing cotton frocks.
Others were quick to follow and society began giving cotton parties, with miniature bales as souvenirs, while place cards boomed the buy-a-bale campaign. Linen showers for brides-elect gave way to cotton showers.
Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—Southern mil-merely for house dresses, but to tango

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour.
Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well-playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

"Giddy Gibby" Will Enter Movie Land

what prompted her to enter pictures,

Sage Tea Dandy to Darken Hair

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.
Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dau-druff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.
This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around,
so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

KNIFE RESTORES PENSION MONEY

Operation on a Fireman's Head Enables Him to Recover $4,000.

New York, Oct. 12.—Clouded in mind for fourteen years as a result of a blow on the head, and cured by a surgical operation that enabled him to go into court and fight to right a wrong that had been done him by some unidentified person, is the experience of John Jennings, of Long Island City, one of the oldest retired firemen in the city.
Mr. Jennings story was revealed yesterday when Justice Gavegan, of the Supreme court, signed an order on the recommendation of Controller Prendergast compelling the city to pay to Jennings $4,000 back pension that had been illegally withheld from him because some one had changed his retirement record and up to last year he was not in a mental condition to know the difference.
An fire in 1899 Jennings was injured about the head so severely that he became mentally deficient. In June of that year, he was retired on a pension of $800 a year. Until May of 1913 Jennings was unable to handle his own affairs. In May of 1913, a surgical operation was performed and a few months later he appeared to have regained all his faculties.
Then he discovered that instead of receiving $800 a year pension since 1899, he had received only $633, the amount he would have been entitled to had he been retired without being injured. He started an investigation and began writing letters to officials connected with the department. These letters were clear and showed that he was again able to use his mental faculties for clear reasoning. Inquiry revealed the fact that $800 had been awarded Jennings, but someone had erased the figures $800 and the fact that he had been injured in service and inserted $633 a year and noted that he had been retired in the usual order. Who did it or why no one knows.

Controller Prendergast referred the matter to City Counsel Park and the latter recommended that Jennings receive the difference with interest and hereafter he would receive the original amount.

WABASH MAKING PROMISE GOOD

Harrison Street Work Will Be Completed Within Few Days.

After waiting a year for the Wabash railroad to complete its bridge work at the Harrison street subway, the city government can see the beginning of the end of delay at that point. Monday the railroad began loading the massive forty-ton concrete slabs that are to span the subway opening and if no wrecks on the road compel the use of the big wrecking cranes at some other place the slabs will be in position by the end of this week. The wooden piling that support the temporary bridge will then be removed and the McAllister Construction company, contractors for the city work, will have a clear way for the grading of the driveway, the laying of the pavement and the construction of the sidewalks. It is the expectation that the street will be opened for traffic this fall.

Carmichael & Kreider, contractors for the Wabash work, began Monday morning to install steel I-beams in the bridge. The Taylor street subway so that the piling may be removed and the concrete bridge constructed. This is the only temporary work, however, it being the purpose to put concrete slabs in for the permanent work.

The Brooks Construction company has begun the work of grading at the Thompson avenue subway.

SMOKE CONSUMER INSTALLED.

Moran Ice Company Giving Trial to Device to Abate Nuisance.

The Moran Ice company has installed for a ninety-day trial a smoke consumer that is pledged by its makers to abate the smoke nuisance. The trial is showing satisfactory results. The Moran company was one of the concerns frequently complained of to the board of works, and had been warned when several notices were recently sent out quoting the smoke ordinance. If the device now being experimented with proves satisfactory in all respects to a reasonable degree it may mark the end of the smoke nuisance. The board of works will give those whose smokestacks have been the cause of offense an opportunity to remove the best means for abating the smoke nuisance. One man who received warning applied to the board that he had been warned and expense to prevent his smokestack from belching black clouds, but that since neighboring smokestacks of bonded as green as his own he ceased the effort.

WILL ATTEND BIG CONFERENCE.

Mayor Hoesy and Secretary Wessel to Go to Philadelphia.

It is probable that Mayor W. J. Hoesy and Secretary John Wessel, of the city of Fort Wayne, will represent the city at the big conference of municipal officials to be held in Philadelphia Nov. 12, 13 and 14 for the purpose of combining the cities of the country in a big organization designed to protect the public in their relations to public service corporations, especially with reference to rates for water, gas and electric current. Mayor Rudolph Blankenberg, of Philadelphia, started the movement and he has been aided in promoting it by mayors of several of the largest American cities. Among other things proposed to be done is the formation of a bureau of public utilities research that shall procure all possible data on public utilities rates and the like and be made a sort of offensive and defensive alliance of the cities.

TO OPEN RUDISILL FARTHER.

Park Board Orders Plans for Boulevard Clear to Anthony.

The park board at its meeting Saturday afternoon ordered City Engineer Harrison Price to prepare for the opening and improvement of Rudisill boulevard from the alley east of Thomas street to Anthony boulevard and for the opening and improvement of Anthony from Rudisill to Anthony. The Rudisill boulevard improvement will carry that driveway clear across the south side of the city from Broadway to Anthony, and in the last section the boulevard remaining to be opened. A resolution was ordered prepared for grading Anthony boulevard from the Maumee river to State boulevard. The park board announced abandonment of the project to lease the White fields east of the city for a public golf course. The rental asked is $1,000 per year, a figure the board does not believe it is able to pay. The east side people want the board to purchase this property for a park and if this is done a golf course will be laid out.

BIG PETITION WILL GO IN.

Convention Hall Project to Reach City Council Tuesday.

The big petition of 6,000 names asking the city council to take some steps for a convention hall at Fort Wayne will be presented to that body Tuesday evening by the citizens' convention hall committee. No recommendations will accompany the petition. The committee will leave the entire question of ways and means, location, site and character and size of structure to the council. It is merely designed to demonstrate to the council by the petition that there is an overwhelming demand in the city for an adequate assembly hall and to pray that the council definitely inaugurate steps to procure an institution so much wanted and so badly needed.

FAVORS A CITY MORGUE.

Dr. Edward H. Kruse, coroner of Allen county, is author of the suggestion that Fort Wayne should establish a city morgue, where the bodies of persons who meet death by violence may be taken charge of until identification is made and remains claimed by relatives. Such cases are now of almost daily occurrence. Dr. Kruse says a single room equipped with a proper sort of table would meet the need.

COAL SCALE FOR SEALER.

City Sealer C. B. Tolson has made arrangements for a wagon scale upon which coal weights may be tested in the southeast part of the city. The owner will fix it up and maintain it at his own expense. Some of the city's largest coal yards are in that section, but weight tests have to be made remotely from there and it imposes much inconvenience.

RIVER STOPS WORK ON WALL.

An unexpected rise in the waters of the St. Joe river has compelled the city of W. Tapp Construction company to cease operations on the Spy Run avenue retaining wall. The work already done has been much delayed and the board of works is feeling some anxiety. A big freshet in the St. Joe might at any time do damage to Spy Run avenue at this point.

PENSION BOARD TO MEET.

Secretary Harry G. Beyerle announces that there will be a meeting of the trustees of the police pension fund in the city court room Tuesday afternoon to take up matters of importance.

SUCCUMBS TO SUDDEN ATTACK

Eugene Franklin Brown is Fatally Stricken in His Chair.

Sitting in a large arm chair reading a newspaper, apparently in good health, Eugene Franklin Brown, aged sixty-six years, suffered a sudden attack of heart trouble at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. F. Reitze, 1005 Columbia avenue, which caused his death a few minutes later.

Mr. Brown had been ailing for the past three or four years but only ten days ago was his sickness considered serious. Early Monday morning he was walking about the house and set down in the chair to read where death overtook him.

The deceased was born in Lisbon, Indiana, March 7, 1848, and following the civil war moved to Fort Wayne where his father was owner and manager of a hotel. During the war Mr. Brown was employed in the recruiting office at Kendallville.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian church of this city and is survived by three sisters, Mrs. W. F. Reitze, Mrs. A. H. Beardsley, of Elkhart, and Mrs. Reed Smith, of Minneapolis, Minn. The remains will be shipped to Elkhart for burial.

BARRY.

John L. Barry, son of Owen Barry and for twelve years employed as a chemist in the Pennsylvania railroad shops, died Monday noon at his home, 1223 Hayden street, following an illness that covered a period of two years.

The deceased was a native of Fort Wayne and received his education in the Catholic parochial school and entered the Pennsylvania shops as an apprentice and was employed there until his illness forced him to resign his position. He enjoyed a large acquaintance and was held in the highest esteem by his companions in his place of employment and by a large concourse of friends. He was a member of the Holy Name society of the Cathedral parish and of the Inequus club.

The surviving family consists of the father, two sisters, Mrs. W. E. Hickey and Mrs. Rudolph Langas, and one brother, E. J. Barry, of the Nickel Plate, all of Fort Wayne.

30 SAILORS WERE NEAR STARVATION

New York, Oct. 12.—Thirty hungry sailors who experienced a close call to starvation or the sea, reached New York today aboard the schooner Alice Lord, long overdue from St. Martins, in the Danish West Indies. The little vessel had been driven by a hurricane nearly 1,000 miles from her course. For five days the only daily rations her sailors had was a plate of bean soup and two or three pancakes a piece. The Alice Lord sailed from St. Martins 35 days ago with a cargo of salt. She was short of provisions when she put into port there. St. Martins was short, too, and all the captain could buy was beans. Of these he purchased less than he wanted, but all the townspeople had to sell. The crew settled down to a diet of beans for breakfast, dinner and supper.

State Conference to Open in Fort Wayne Tuesday Evening.

The members of various committees or arrangements towards making the local end of the conference of Indiana State Daughters of the American Revolution a success, were busy today perfecting plans and incidentally looking after their households preparatory for the opening of the state meeting tomorrow.

The decorating committee, consisting of Mrs. Walter Massey, chairman; Mrs. Paul Mosman, Mrs. Edwin Dalman, Mrs. W. A. Nichols and Miss Alice Deihl, spent the morning at the Anthony hotel draping flags in the ball room and planning for the placing of numerous ferns, potted plants and flowers in the hotel reception hall tomorrow.

The hospitality committee, consisting of Mrs. Edward White, Mrs. Dallas F. Greene, Mrs. Frank Raue and Mrs. Amy Seavey, have looked after the entertainment of the guests. The entire number of visitors will be guests of members of the local chapter and in almost every case the hostesses in the city are to entertain the guests at the hotels, instead of in their own homes. The Anthony hotel will be headquarters for the conference and many visiting Daughters will be entertained there, but a number will be guests at the Randall and Wayne hotels. During the convention the Mary Penrose Wayne chapter will give two luncheons and a dinner for the delegates. The luncheons will be on Wednesday and Thursday noons and the dinner on Wednesday evening, all at the Anthony.

Among the musical features by Fort Wayne people will be singing by Mrs. Clara Zollars Bond, Mrs. James E. Elliott, Mrs. George Randall and Miss Walis. Mrs. C. A. Horton, harpist, will play during the reception hours tomorrow evening and accompany Miss Mellette, violinist.

Invitations have been extended to non-members of the local organization to the reception which will follow the opening program tomorrow evening.

DESERTED WIFE IS SUICIDE.

Columbus Woman Swallows Poison to End Her Troubles.

Columbus, Ind., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Lucy Daum, 33 years old, whose husband, Henry Daum, 45 years old, a local automobile and farm implement dealer, disappeared from his home in this city Friday, committed suicide at her home here yesterday by taking acid. The couple's home life is said to have been happy and no motive for the husband's disappearance is known. It is rumored, however, that he was embarrassed financially.

He drew all of his money out of the banks before leaving. The dead woman left a note in which she said she could not live without her husband, whom she loved dearly. She is survived by a 4-year-old daughter.

RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED.

Thieves got into Reynolds home on Woodland Avenue.

Burglars cut their way into the residence of Fred Reynolds, 110 West Woodland avenue, some time Sunday night, it is believed, and ransacked the rooms. What was carried away cannot be ascertained until Mrs. Reynolds returns from Decatur. Her watch and several rings are missing, but she may have them with her, according to Mr. Reynolds, who is a dispatcher on the Pennsylvania and was called home from Conroy, O., by the police.

An electric meter reader discovered the burglary Monday morning, when he found that holes had been bored through the kitchen door and the lock unfastened. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were both away and the thief had things his own way. None of the silverware or cut glassware was taken.

MAY FORM MUSICAL SOCIETY.

Efforts to Combine Musical Talent and Give Joint Recitals.

The second meeting of representatives of the Apollo club, the Balie trio and the Fort Wayne Symphony orchestra was held on Saturday evening at the Commercial club but no definite plans were made. The committee appointed at a previous meeting consisting of Messrs. George Balie, Eugene Troendel and O. F. Dodge held a meeting with others of the three organizations to consider joint recitals and report on various features to be considered. One of the things proposed is to organize a musical art society of fifty members who would be willing to aid in supporting such a society and then to give recitals in whose program each of the organizations would be represented. Instead of having three separate musical societies each of which prepares two or three concerts each season.

ANTWERP IS NOT BADLY DAMAGED

But One Section of City Suffers Heavily Under German Fire.

London, Oct. 12.—(3:55 a. m.)—"Antwerp was not seriously damaged by the German bombardment," says the Chronicle's Amsterdam correspondent. "Only the suburb of Berchem and the southeast quarter of the town suffered badly."

"Long after it had been evacuated, the Germans continued firing on the forts. They feared mines and hoped thus to destroy them. Near the southern suburbs the ground had been extensively mined by the Belgians but the Germans were warned by traitors within the city who took care to avoid the danger zone."

"On Thursday morning the retreat of troops passed on their flight for or than 5,000 motor cars filled with soldiers who had already passed through the town. The intention was to reach Ostend by forced marches, and the soldiers were relieved of their knapsacks which were carried in the vans. Motor busses from London carried foot sore troops who had fallen out of line. Then came columns of machine guns drawn by dogs."

"The procession continued all day and late that night the artillery passed through. They had been in a rear guard action. An officer said they had accounted for heaps of Germans."

The Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent who has just reached London, says that the day before the Germans entered Antwerp he went to the queen's hotel to ascertain the whereabouts of a group of American journalists who had been staying there. He found that they had left the city after having spent the night in a private house which was thrice hit by shells and which finally caught fire.

POLITICAL PARTIES AND A NEW CONSTITUTION

Parties and Leaders Alike Express a Favorable Attitude Toward the Proposition.

One of the most encouraging and significant facts in connection with the movement for a constitutional convention for Indiana is the favorable attitude of the political parties and the responsible leaders.

Governor Ralston in his message to the Legislature in 1912 said:

"In my opening campaign speech last fall, I stated that while I personally favored a constitutional convention, I had no authority to commit my party to such a movement, but that without regard to my individual views, I would, in the event of my election, make such recommendations as to the advisability of calling a convention as I believed fairly represented the views of the people.

What then are the views of the people on this subject?

The Democratic Legislature in 1911 believed that the present constitution of Indiana did not meet the requirements of the people, and so holding it prepared for submission to the voters of Indiana a new constitution.

The Progressive and Republican parties, in their respective platforms of 1912, declared in favor of a constitutional convention. Unless the Democratic Legislature of 1911 and the Progressive and Republican parties were all mistaken, the people of Indiana are in need of and want a new constitution.

Is it strange that they should desire an up-to-date organic law? Their present constitution was adopted more than sixty years ago. Since then the development of our state has been marvelous. Its population has greatly increased and its intellectual, social and material progress have multiplied many fold. New questions have arisen that cannot be solved under the present instrument, and new conditions make it necessary for the people to assert rights they cannot exercise thereunder.

What is a government for if it is not to serve the purposes of the people? Thomas Jefferson believed so strongly that this was the object of government that he maintained that a constitution should contain a provision for its revision every twenty years. There have been, but few, if any men in this state who excelled the late Governor (Saunders). Gray in ability accurately to interpret public sentiment. In his message to the legislature more than twenty years ago he strongly advocated the calling of a constitutional convention.

I have thus briefly stated the facts that I believe show that the people want a new constitution, and personally I favor a constitutional convention.

This legislature, which was strongly Democratic, passed the Act submitting the question of calling a constitutional convention to the people, and the Democratic state platform of 1914 says:

"We approve the action of the last General Assembly in making provision that the people may declare whether they desire a convention to frame a new constitution for Indiana."

The Republican state platform of 1914 declares:

"We reiterate our former declaration in favor of the revision of the constitution of the state by constitutional convention consisting of representatives elected by the people, the new constitution so prepared to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection."

And the 1914 platform of the Progressive party of Indiana says:

"We emphasize the necessity of calling a constitutional convention and urge the people to vote therefor at the coming election."

The present situation in Indiana surely justifies every claim put forward in the above statements as to the need of a new constitution. This demand is a logical protest against the continuance of a situation which makes progress in the political development of the state impossible. It is unmistakable evidence of the growing spirit of progress in state and local government.

WHY NOT PUBLISH IT?

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes: "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." It is one thing to claim Quality for a stock of merchandise, but another thing to show it to those who wish to purchase. They show it at Foster's.

In one big business office in Liverpool a volunteer ambulance corps has been formed and classes are held regularly. They are very popular, except among the office boys, who complain that they are being "almost handaged to death." A young man in Atchison, Kan., telephoned his girl at midnight that he had dropped a dime on her front porch earlier in the evening and would appreciate it if she would get up early next morning and look for it before any one else came on the porch.

COLORED MAN ON TRAIL OF GIRLS

Arthur Casey Fined Heavily for Following Young White Ladies.

Arthur Casey, a young colored man, was found guilty on a loitering charge in the city court Monday morning and given a fine of $20 and costs. He could not pay and went to jail. Casey's arrest was the result of his camping on the trail of two white women, sisters, 16 and 18 years old, who had gone to a millinery store on Maumee avenue Saturday evening. Casey followed them to the store and when they came out more than an hour later followed them again on Washington street. A woman to whom they appealed for help notified Officers Young and Bowker, who directed the young ladies to go west on Washington street to see if Casey again pursued them. As soon as the girls started Casey again hit the trail and was arrested. He could give no account of his conduct.

Swiped Powl From Market Vender. Bill Jacobs related a very elaborate, somewhat complicated and decidedly untrue, but convincing story of his transaction with William H. Northrup, a dealer on the city market, last Saturday, to prove that a chicken for which he negotiated and later carried away, was paid for. Northrup said that while he was attending to another customer Jacobs walked away with the fowl, about the price of which he had been haggling. The police were notified and Jacobs was later arrested. He was fined $5 and costs and given a suspended sentence of twenty days.

Maltreated His Guests. John Flusher, who conducts a lodging house in West Columbia street, was fined $1 and costs for assault and battery on Howard Sargent and William Sullivan, who appeared at his place late Saturday night and wanted rooms. Both men were intoxicated and were ordered away. As they were leaving Flusher hastened their departure with a broomstick. Sargent received a bad cut in the scalp and Sullivan's face was considerably disfigured.

Crawford Interned for a Long Spell. Eugene ("Beans") Crawford, an incorrigible police character and city court regular, was charged with public intoxication and received a fine of $100 and costs, which will hold him in jail for nearly four months. He is the fourth of the chronic drunks to be given similar treatment in pursuance of Judge Kerr's policy of severe treatment for the coterie of regulars who are always going and coming.

Other City Court Cases. Joe Barnes, Harry Holder, Isaac Orvick, Jack Welch, and Henry McNeke, drunks, were turned loose. Jim Case, Jack Gannon, drunks, drew $1 and costs each. George Miller, who was drinking from Gannon's bottle in a down town alley Sunday morning, was charged with loitering and was let go. Everett Brewer, drunk, was continued until Tuesday to get thoroughly sober and give the court a chance to consider his case at more length.

Leonard Benward, a youth of 18, who has recently returned from the boys' school at Plainfield, was continued until Tuesday on a loitering charge, and his bond was fixed at $50.

Fred Barrows, charged with petit larceny, fared well in the fact that the affidavit was changed to public intoxication and he was allowed to go. He had taken $9 from the house of Mrs. Cal Redding on North Harrison street, some days ago, when he went to the Redding home to see his little daughter. The money was recovered. Barrow was on the verge of delirium tremens when arrested.

Frank Rich, a loiterer, and Homer Bolenbaugh, charged with disorderly conduct, were turned loose.

Jerry Bailey, an ex-convict, was put under $500 bond and continued until October 19 on a charge of impersonating an officer. He called Jacob Kopp from a restaurant on Harrison street Saturday night and claiming to be a plain clothes man, started to go through him. He was detained until an officer could be called.

MORE TERRIBLE THAN AT LIEGE

Rotterdam, Via London, Oct. 12.—4:48 a. m.—A correspondent of the Tjdie, describing the scenes at Antwerp, says: "When the outer forts were taken the Belgians, exhausted, and with their heads swathed in bandages, withdrew to the inner line. Two commandants blew up their forts and spiked their guns."

"The Germans succeeded in forcing a breach in the inner circle of forts sooner than was expected. Belgian mines of the inner and outer forts cost the Germans thousands of lives, but Gen. von Beseler, the German commander, apparently had been ordered to take the city at all costs with a view of safeguarding the German army in the north of France."

"The scene of Liege was as nothing in comparison to the last two nights of the bombardment of Antwerp, which was the most terrible of the war. While the bombardment was at its height the prisoners began to batter at the doors of their cells because bombs had pierced the roofs of the prison. They howled like mad until released and then rushed through the streets as though devils were at their heels and began to pillage. This they continued to do until they were suppressed by force."

LEAP FROM A WINDOW.

Three Prisoners Escape From Indianapolis Workhouse.

Indianapolis, Oct. 12.—Three prisoners, with six months each to serve, escaped from the Marion county workhouse, Northwestern avenue and Twenty-first street, at 6 o'clock last night by sawing a bar from a third-story window and jumping to the ground. All three were trustees. The men were detected while climbing through the window, and Jerry O'Connor, superintendent, gave the alarm. Immediately a large force of patrolmen, bicyclists and mounted men was dispatched to watch the railroad yards and detectives joined Superintendent O'Connor in the chase.

George Johnson, 17 years old, 2108 English avenue, was captured at the Big Four tracks and English avenue by bicyclists and English avenue by bicyclists. He suffered a broken left arm in the jump from the third story window and was taken to police headquarters and later returned to the workhouse.

Fred Smith, 27 years old, of Kokomo, and Arthur Waldrup, 19 years old, of Indianapolis, still are at large. The men ran in different directions.

London, Oct. 12.—4:02 a. m.—The Daily Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent gives a picture of the panic in the Belgian town and flight of the populace. "Before the bombardment had long been in operation," the correspondent says, "Antwerp's civil population fell into a panic. Immense crowds gathered along the quayside and at the railroad stations in their efforts to make an exit from the city. Early on Thursday morning more than 40,000 had assembled on the long quay in the hope of boarding fifteen tug boats bound for Flushing, Rotterdam and other Dutch ports. These were not vessels of any considerable carrying capacity and no one had made arrangements for a systematic embarkation, a wild struggle followed among the frantic people. The boats had no regular gangways and the only means of boarding them were over narrow planks, tipped at dangerous angles."

"Up these the fugitives struggled, the strong elbowing the weak out of the way in their mad haste to escape. It was marvelous that there was not a terrible death list resulting from the struggle. Many persons were forced over into the water, but their rescue generally was prompt. As far as it was possible to learn the casualty list consisted of two women drowned and one woman suffering from a fractured skull sustained in a fall from a plank. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon all the tugs had gone and the quays were still filled."

Washington, Oct. 12.—Uncle Sam paid out a total of $172,417,546 in pensions in the fiscal year ended June 30, last, according to Commissioner of Pensions Saltzgeber in his annual report made public today. This compares with $174,171,660 in 1913 which was the largest amount ever paid out. The commission points out, however, that the sum of expenditures has been reached and a decrease in the amount may be expected to continue. The grand total of expenditures for pensions from 1866 up to and including 1914 was $4,633,511,926. The total number of pensioners of all classes on the rolls was 735,230 against 820,272 in 1913. The number of civil war pensioners was 723,129 compared with 762,439 in 1913. The largest number ever on the rolls was in 1902 when there were 999,466.

The report gives the losses to the pension roll by death of civil war soldier pensioners for the past several years showing that the percentage of loss is increasing with the advancing years of the veterans. There were 462,379 such pensioners on the rolls at the beginning of the fiscal year 1914, and the loss by death during the year was 33,639, or 7.3 per cent.

Branch No. 1173, L. C. B. A., will give a progressive pedro party Tuesday evening, October 13, at St. Peter's hall.

Antwerp Defenders, Fight-
Fled in Disorder.

Burgomaster.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—By Wireless to Say-ville.—The general staff of the German army announced today that in the beginning a very strong garrison defended Antwerp with great energy, but that after the attack by German infantry and marine divisions, the defenders fled in full rout. Among the Antwerp garrison was one British marine brigade. The complete collapse of the Anglo-Belgian defense of Antwerp was shown by the fact that no military authority could be found with which to treat concerning the surrender of the city. This surrender was finally negotiated with the burgomaster. It is impossible to say as yet the number of prisoners taken with Antwerp. Many of the defenders, who fled to Holland, were interned.

Gov. von Beseler, who has been decorated with the Order of Merit for his capture of Antwerp, has issued a proclamation addressed to the people saying no one would be harmed unless they committed hostilities upon the Germans.

"Resistance," he announced, "will cause the destruction of your beautiful city." Private property in Antwerp was spared.

The following information has been given out in Berlin for publication: "Reports received here from Vienna set forth that the Russian siege of the Przemyśl fortress has been abandoned. Austrian troops have defeated six Russian divisions near Lant. They also routed one division of Cossacks east of Rymao.

"The Japanese have occupied the Shan Tung railroad in Shan Tung province, China. This is a Chinese state

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The official war news is brief today, but war office statements are not needed to make plain that momentous results hang on the fortunes of the desperate battles now being waged at vital points on the line that stretches from Switzerland through northern France to within twenty-five miles of the straits of Dover.

The heaviest fighting is on the line of Lassigny and Lens. This afternoon's official report from Paris says that the allies repulsed German attacks between Arras and the Oise and that cavalry engagements continue in the region of Labasse, Estaries and Hazebrouck.

Special attention is directed to Ostend. There have assembled the greater part of the Belgian army and about two-thirds of the British forces that escaped from Antwerp. It is believed that Germany is pushing forward to attack the city with the hope of capturing and using the port in her operations against England.

A bitter struggle to keep the Germans from the coast is inevitable. Today's reports indicate that the German cavalry advance is less than thirty miles distance from Ostend. The strength of the allies at Ostend is not known. It is possible that the British reinforcements which were unable to reach Antwerp in time to help in the defense of that city are now in Ostend.

Still less is known of the situation in the eastern theatre of the war. Petrograd is silent on recent developments. The Russian war office explains this silence on the ground of strategy.

Vienna claims that the Russian attack on Przemyśl, the strong fortress in Austria Galicia, has failed.

Neutral sources report that cholera is spreading in Austria.

German airmen dropped two bombs in Paris this morning. The missiles struck in the yards of the Northern railway station, but failed to explode.

BOAT SWAMPS; U.S. NAVAL MEN DROWN

Washington, Oct. 12.—A radiogram to the revenue cutter services today from the commander of the Behning sea fleet, reported the drowning of Assistant Surgeon L. W. Jenkins and five other men when a boat from the cutter Manning swamped Saturday in Unalga pass, off Cape Satchin.

The message said: "A boat from the revenue cutter Manning landed at Cape Satchin, in Unalga pass, in order to carry medical aid to an employee of the light house at that point. In returning from the beach with the sick man the cutter's boat was swamped.

PREPARE FOR BATTLE AT SEASIDE CAPITAL

London, Oct. 12.—(1:30 p. m.)—The news of German movements between Antwerp and Ostend up to the present is so fragmentary and contradictory as to be almost worthless.

The Germans are maintaining their customary secrecy and reports coming from Belgium and Dutch sources of heavy repulses to the Germans with losses suspiciously large and "round numbers" are looked at askance nowadays.

The capture of Ostend would of course be worth the possession of many Antwerps to the Germans' plans, so it may be taken for granted that they will not enter the popular seaside resort without fighting for every foot of the way. Great events therefore depend upon the result of the battle now in progress on the line of Lassigny and Lens and the other operations connected therewith and which the three German army corps released from the siege of Antwerp will try to take part.

The retention of Arras by the French after fierce fighting during which the place was lost and taken is regarded as important as the town is well to the northward of Verdun. There is no confirmation of the report that the civil population of Belfort is quitting that city in fear of a bombardment and no news has been received here of any special hostile movements in that quarter. The claim by Vienna that Austrian troops have relieved Przemyśl and scattered its Russian investors is the most striking news from the eastern theater that is asserted to be official. There is nothing here to confirm or deny the claim.

Check to Russians. A German report also records a check to the Russian forces on the Prussian front and the progress of the German armies in Poland, which seems destined to be the cockpit largely determining the events in this war arena.

Six Russian and five foreign war correspondents have been accorded permission to join the Russian forces at the front. They have enjoyed a joyous send-off by Grand Duke Nicholas, the Russian commander-in-chief, but they have been carefully dispatched to a less exciting field of observation than that of Poland. Lemberg in Galicia, is their destination. In saying farewell to the correspondents, Grand Duke Nicholas emphasized the "great utility of the press in exact and worthy hands." But he quickly quenched the rising hopes of his audience by saying: "I regret that I shall not be able to show you all I should like to for in this war especially no grandiose absolute silence regarding a military secret dealing with the plain of campaign is a necessity of success." The grand duke then informed the correspondents that they were going to Lemberg.

Prepares to Jail Them. According to Italian sources the Austro-Hungarian government, anticipating Italian participation in the war, made all arrangements to throw into the jails the prominent citizens of Trieste of Italian birth or descent, and it is asserted threatens to shoot without trial all persons participating in pro-Italian demonstrations. It is even said that Trieste itself will be bombarded in the event of anything in the nature of an insurrection taking place.

A message from Budapest published in Rome credits the Hungarian government with the intention of granting autonomy to Transylvania with a view to avoiding an insurrection in that country.

WILSON MAKES NEW PEACE MOVE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Various reports about efforts of the Washington government to set on foot peace negotiations between the warring European nations were set at rest today by President Wilson. He told callers that he had made no direct peace propositions to any of the powers since his first note tendering the good offices of the United States.

Oscar Straus, former ambassador to Turkey and a peace advocate, called at the white house during the day with a delegation to invite the president to attend a celebration in New York October 24 commemorating the 300th anniversary of the founding of the city and after a quarter of an hour in conference with the president. He said afterwards no new plans for a peace movement had been discussed.

ORGANIZATION IS COMPLETED

Committee Heads Selected for Coming Evangelistic Services.

The organization for the revival meetings to be conducted this coming winter by Dr. Milford H. Lyons was completed Monday morning at a meeting held at the Anthony hotel at 9 o'clock with the evangelist's advance agent, Mr. Pitzer. The president and secretary were elected at a meeting held Sunday afternoon at the Grace Reformed church.

With the president, E. A. K. Hackett, in the chair and Secretary G. A. Philbrick at the desk, the meeting was called to order and the various committees were chosen with the following results:

Cottage prayer meetings—Rev. C. C. Travis, Rev. Charles Manchester and Rev. A. K. Zartman. Personal work—Rev. O. E. Tones. Music—Clinton R. Willson. Ushers—A. H. Perfect. Out-of-town delegation—Rev. E. Q. Landman. Fraternities and orders—Rev. A. J. Folsom. Factories and shops—Hiram Philley. Publicity—Harry Fletcher. Entertainment—J. H. Moore. Transportation—Rev. C. H. Snashall. Finance—E. A. K. Hackett, and location committee, Rev. Edward Montgomery, Rev. A. K. Zartman, Rev. O. E. Tones, Rev. C. H. Snashall and Rev. C. C. Travis. The last committee met Monday afternoon to decide on a place to erect the tabernacle.

Conforming with the wish of Dr. Lyons that all churches with the exception of those in the outskirts hold no meetings whatsoever while the meetings were in progress, the Ministerial association decided that all congregational meetings should be discontinued.

Dr. Lyons and His Party. Rev. Dr. Lyons and six assistants will constitute the evangelistic party in Fort Wayne. The complete list is: M. H. Lyons, D. D. director; Loren G. Jones, chorus leader; Mrs. Loren G. Jones, pianist; Ray Upson, secretary to Dr. Lyons; Mrs. Daisy Barr, superintendent of women's work; Guy Sutton, custodian; Rev. H. H. Pitzer, assistant and director of men's work.

SPENCER, W. VA., HAS BIG FIRE. Entire Business District is Wiped Out by Flames.

Spencer, W. Va., Oct. 12.—The entire business district of Spencer was destroyed by fire early today with a loss of approximately $300,000. The fire started in a fruit store and spread rapidly because there was no water with which to fight the flames. Little rain has fallen throughout this section in the past two months.

National Leaguers Again Take Mackmen Into Camp in Twelve Innings of Gruelling Play

Fenway Park, Boston, Oct. 12.—Boston's National Leaguers made it three straight from the Philadelphia American League team here today, taking the world's championship game in twelve innings of gruelling play.

More than thirty-five thousand people witnessed the spectacular contest, in which repeated ties were broken in the final innings by terrific batting, in which Baker and Gowdy starred.

Batteries and Line-Up. Tyler and Gowdy were announced as the battery for Boston, and Bush and Schang for Philadelphia. The line-up Philadelphia—Murphy, rf; Oldring, lf; Collins, 2b; Baker, 3b; Melnitz, 1b; Walsh, cf; Barry, ss; Schang, c; Bush, p.

Boston—Moran, rf; Evers, 2b; Connelly, lf; Whitted, cf; Schmidt, 1b; Deal, 3b; Maranville, ss; Gowdy, c; Tyler, p.

Klem gave the decisions behind the plate and Dincen on bases. Hildebrand went to left field and Byron to right field.

Were Wildly Enthusiastic. Some 35,000 wildly enthusiastic spectators saw the Athletics make a desperate stand on the Boston field to stave off a third defeat which would all but end their chances of bearing off the world's championship.

The Boston, inspired by thousands of the home folks that filled Fenway park, tried for a third victory with the same keen pursuit of conquest that enabled them to twice topple over the American leaguers on their own ball-stick. "We've got the jump on the Athletics and they never can get up enough speed to catch us now," said Manager Stallings of the Boston. "They have never seen Tyler in action and Rudolph is ready if we need him today. Bender can't come back so soon, and if he does we will beat him again. There is only the Athletics' second string artillery to stop us."

Capt. Thomas' Explanation. "We have not been hitting," said Captain Tom Thomas, of the Athletics, "and any team looks feeble when it is not getting in solid blows. Watch us today. Our club is not the one to take a third straight beating."

Boston was plain baseball crazy today. Hundreds swarmed all night at the gates of Fenway park. Within an hour after the unserved stands were flung open every seat was taken and scores lined the back field and pressed against a guard fence erected around the rear of the outfield. Once the crowd broke the wooden barrier and mounted police had to drive the people back into Athletics. The first pitch of Tyler's was a ball. The next was a strike. Murphy doubled down the left field line. Oldring sacrificed. Tyler to Schmidt. Murphy going to third. Gowdy's throw being low, Melnitz walked. Collins was picked off second. Tyler to Evers. One run, one hit, one error.

Boston—Bush's first pitch was a ball. After pitching three straight balls Bush put over two strikes. Moran popped out to Collins. Evers singled. Barry worked a fast inshoot almost exclusively. Connelly fouled out to Baker, who made the catch near the Athletics' bench. Evers stole second. Schang's throw being to the left of the bag. Whitted fanned. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SECOND INNING.

Athletics. Tyler took Walsh's splash and threw him out. Barry out on a foul to Schmidt. Evers took Schang's looping fly with his gloved hand. No runs, no hits, no errors.

THIRD INNING.

Paris, Oct. 12.—(3:10 p. m.)—Another German bomb was dropped today at St. Ouen, a suburb of Paris, but it also did not explode. This missile fell within a short distance of a large paint factory where there is a gasoline tank with a capacity of 80,000 gallons.

DREAD CHOLERA NOW SPREADING

Advance of Disease Seen in Remotest Districts of Austria.

Vienna, Oct. 12.—The cholera is spreading rapidly to the remotest districts of Austria. A case has been discovered at Feldkirch province of Vorarlberg, near the Swiss frontier. The Austrian troops in Galicia are being vaccinated against the disease. The cold weather has caught the Austrian soldiers in Galicia unprepared and the authorities are making most urgent appeals to the public to contribute warm clothing. Owing to the increased price of flour the Vienna bakers' association has announced that its members will make only big loaves of the so-called war bread and that they will sell only for cash. The consumption of horse flesh in Vienna is increasing rapidly. As many as 200 of the animals have been brought into the market in one day. The ministry of commerce has issued an order that all letters going to places abroad, without exception, must be left open. This includes letters containing valuables. The entire foreign post has been put under military supervision. Special instructions have been given to Austrian officials on the Italian frontier to prevent the bringing in of Italian newspapers. Persons attempting to smuggle papers across will be severely punished.

Belgians' Brave Effort to Save Antwerp—"Movie" Battle Pictures, Straight from Europe, are Most Startling yet Secured

These corking battle pictures, taken a few seconds apart, are from moving picture films made by a daring operator during the fighting in which the Belgians attempted to prevent the Germans from reaching Antwerp. The scene is in the streets of Antwerp on the road to Antwerp and the brave photographer is J. Frank Brocklin, of the Lubin Film company. Although under the heaviest fire he escaped with his films. A street barricade is being defended by the gallant Belgians, whose dead and wounded are lying all around them. In the upper picture is a disabled German auto, but the men inside were still operating their machine gun. The lower picture was evidently taken first.

FIGHTING IN LILLE REGION DESPERATE

London, Oct. 12.—It is stated that the Germans lost 45,000 men during the attack on fortresses Wavre and Wavre-St. Catherine at Antwerp, says a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam.

Except for a flood of vivid details regarding the fall of Antwerp the British public has been practically cut off from news from the front during the past forty-eight hours. It is felt, however, that events of tremendous importance, either are occurring or are impending in the area about Lille, where the cavalry of the contending forces has been in violent contact for the past week.

The military critics for the London morning papers leave their space to speculation regarding the utility of Antwerp for German offense or defense. Most of them agree that unless Dutch neutrality is violated, Antwerp will be of no more use in forwarding German's purpose of making Zeppelin and naval raids on England than other places in Belgium, which have been occupied for some time by the invaders. They agree, however, that for military purposes in the western theatre of war the occupation of Antwerp is of supreme importance to Germany, which now will be able to release several divisions to aid the sorely pressed right wing. Further, the capture of the city will insure the lines of communication should retreat be necessary through Belgium.

Additional details of the shelling of Antwerp indicate that the damage was not as great as first estimated. The damage inflicted on the German artillery may be set off in large measure by the great destruction wrought on German shipping in the harbor by the Belgians. An official communication from Berlin states that no information is available as the amount of booty taken in the city. The same official statement asserts that on Saturday German cavalry completely routed a French cavalry division near Lille, which indicates extreme limit of the western battle is within twenty miles of the straits of Dover.

It is officially announced in Berlin that in the eastern theater of war all attacks of the first and tenth Russian armies have been repulsed, while the same fate was suffered by the Russians when they attempted an outflanking movement by way of Schiewindt, East Prussia. In South Poland, the German claim, their armies have reached the Vistula. The assertion is also made that the Russians have invented the stories which have been given out regarding great victories at Augustowo and Suwalki.

Petrograd remains silent as to the movements of the Russian armies but hints that secrecy is necessary for the time being because important operations are pending.

Late reports indicate that the terrific fighting, partaking of the nature of siege operations, has taken place during the last fortnight around Roye, Laasigny and Albert, the last named place having been completely destroyed. Inspection of the works from which the Germans were driven shows that they took the fullest advantage of the rock in quarries.

Now that the opposing forces are deployed in a comparatively level country shorter periods of vigorous fighting will probably produce more decisive results than did the engagements while the opposing lines were entrenched against each other.

From Austria come reports, by way of Italy, of the rapid spread of Asiatic cholera and suffering being endured by the Austrian troops on account of the unusually cold weather.

The Rome newspapers commenting on the appointment of Gen. Supelli as Italian minister of war consider it significant that he should have been born in Cape d'Istria, an Italian province still in the possession of Austria.

Under the new minister it is expected preparations to place the army on

BELGIAN QUEEN YET AT OSTEND

London, Oct. 12.—2 p. m.—Definite information has been received here that the queen of the Belgians, notwithstanding the report last week that she had reached England, has not left Ostend for London.

In the course of the operations around Antwerp last week King Albert proceeded to St. Nicholas, an important place on the railroad line between Antwerp and Ghent and beyond the outer range of the Antwerp forts. His majesty was at St. Nicholas as late as last Thursday morning. His subsequent journey westward was in company with Belgian troops, whose withdrawal in that direction had been rendered necessary by the overwhelming forces opposed by them.

SUIT IS RESULT OF A JAIL TERM

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Suit for $25,000 damages filed against United States Judge Koneaw M. Landis on Saturday, it became known today is the result of 30 days spent in jail by Frank Blackledge, on a contempt charge preferred by the federal judge.

If the suit is pressed to trial, it will be the first time in local history it was said, that a United States judge was sued for damages as a result of one of his decisions. Blackledge became involved in a bankruptcy suit and Judge Landis accused him of perjury. He bases his claim for damages on alleged impairment of his health due to his stay in jail, loss of his position and $2,500, which it is alleged, was involved in the bankruptcy proceedings.

The roof and the lighting system of the home of P. J. Smaltz, 707 Archer avenue, were damaged when the house was struck by lightning during the storm Saturday.

A meeting will be held next Saturday evening in the armory of company D in the Flick building, on West Berry street, of all men interested in the organization of a rifle club to affiliate with the National Rifle association.

Dr. E. M. VanBuskirk, the county health officer, will read a paper on "School Sanitation" at the meeting of the Fort Wayne Medical society Tuesday evening in the assembly room of the court house.

CELEBRATION OF DAY VERY QUIET

Banks Closed But General Business Goes on Same as Usual.

Aside from the fact that the financial institutions of Fort Wayne were closed there was little else to indicate that Columbus or Discovery day was being observed on Monday.

In the public schools the teachers devoted part of the time of the morning session to readings and short exercises in keeping with the occasion but there were no general programs in either the public or parochial schools.

Business at the postoffice was carried on as usual because the day is not a national holiday but a legal holiday and about thirty states in the Union have adopted it.

Members of the Knights of Columbus have prepared for an elaborate celebration of the day beginning at 8:30 o'clock Monday evening at their hall.

The speakers will be Rev. George Horstman, rector of St. Andrew's Catholic church, Rev. Edward Mungovan, of Arcola, and Rev. Vurpillat, assistant at St. Peter's Catholic church. Vocal and instrumental renditions will be a part of the program. State Deputy Charles M. Niezer will read his report at the meeting.

Under the Indiana laws the saloons are compelled to close and they are having a double holiday, having been closed all day Sunday.

PARIS RUSHES WORK ON AERIAL DEFENSE

Paris, Oct. 12.—(11:25 a. m.)—A German aeroplane, at a quarter past ten this morning, dropped bombs between two railroad trains that were in the act of pulling out of the Northern railroad station. The bombs did not explode, but were later found imbedded in two feet of earth. The railroad trains were crowded with passengers.

The progress of the campaign in the north of France and the fall of Antwerp were forgotten for a moment today by the people of Paris who spent their time discussing the throwing of bombs on the capital from German aeroplanes as a result of which three persons were killed yesterday and fourteen wounded.

At the same time officials adopted measures looking to the prevention of similar acts in the future. The first thing done was the appointment of Gen. Hirschauer to take charge of the aerial defense of the city. Gen. Hirschauer is an aeronautic expert. Later a number of deputies met at the call of Deputy Debus Cochon to consider various means of rendering the city more secure from aeroplane attacks.

tioned at cardinal points to be always ready to dash after the air craft of the enemy as soon as they should be signalled approaching the city; the arming of fast monoplane with quick firing guns and warnings by residents of the capital to the French army club which is now under military control, were among the suggestions discussed. Finally M. Cochon sent a telegram to Bordeaux urging immediate adoption of efficacious measures with the view of reassuring the people.

The news that one of the German bombs yesterday struck the Cathedral of Notre Dame has been communicated to the Vatican. It is reported that the pope exclaimed upon getting the message: "Providence has prevented an outrage which would have shocked the world."

Military critics, commenting today on the movements of the armies in the Apremont region, declare it is worthy of note that Apremont to the east of St. Mihiel, is the route the enemy would take if they sought to withdraw from St. Mihiel in the direction of Lorraine. Their positions in this vicinity mean much to them, it is declared.

He succeeds the late Justice Lurton. The other business of the day was a formal call by the court of President Wilson, in conformity with a custom established years ago for the judicial branch of the government to pay its respects to the executive.

Justice McReynolds had already taken the oath to support the constitution, but the oath to administer justice alike to all was postponed until today. The former oath is usually subscribed to in private, but the latter, bearing the solemn obligation to administer justice "without respect to persons and to the rich," has, without exception, in late years, been taken in open court. Despite the fact that lawyers knew no motions would be received and no arguments heard during the day, many crowded the little court room to witness the ceremonies connected with the return of court and the seating of Justice McReynolds.

The Buffaloes were entertained at their hall Sunday afternoon by the Synagogue. This quartet is composed of singers of marked ability.

CUTS OWN SALARY FIRST.

Southern Railway President Launches Retrenchment Program.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Heading the list with a twenty per cent. reduction of his own salary, President Fairfax Harrison, of the Southern railroad, has inaugurated a retrenchment plan which is designed to affect equally all officers and interests in the corporation. Graduated reductions of all salaries above $2,500 a year and a reduction of the dividend of the preferred stockholders from five to four and one-half per cent., payable in deferred script, are included in the plan.

CUTS OFF COUNTRY LINES.

Delphos Home Phone Co. Wants $2.88 Bill Paid.

Delphos, O., Oct. 12.—As a result of a controversy over the sum of $2.88, which the Delphos Home Telephone Co. claims is due them from the Northwestern Rural Telephone Co. for taxes paid, the lines of the rural company have been disconnected from the local switchboard.

This is the second time within a year that the patrons of the rural line have been cut off from local service on account of the refusal of the rural company to pay the amount of $2.88.

An injunction was granted the Northwestern company in the Allen county courts, requiring the Delphos Home Telephone Co. to reconnect the rural lines some months ago.

ADAMS COUNTY PAIR WED.

Decatur, Ind., Oct. 12.—Though rain and gloom made the day far from ideal for a wedding day, Oscar E. Price, a well-known young farmer of the south part of the county, and Miss Bessie May Reedy, of Linn Grove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Reedy, were very happy when they appeared at the door of the M. E. parsonage Saturday and asked Rev. Stephenson to marry them. The ceremony was performed. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Price and resides west of Geneva, in Hartford township. The couple went to Pleasant Mills.

LOSES SUIT AGAINST RAILWAY.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—After less than two hours' deliberation the jury hearing the damage suit of William Windemuth against the Chicago and Erie Railroad company, venue here from Huntington county, returned a verdict finding for the defendant company. Two days were required to try the case. Windemuth's demand was based on allegations that he was attacked and beaten and severely injured by an intoxicated man while a passenger on an Erie train. His chief point of contention was that the railroad company failed to afford him proper protection from injury.

SIX STUDENTS STUNNED.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Six students of the Matamoros school in Harrison township were knocked to the floor and stunned when lightning struck the building during an electrical storm. Helen Redwell and Carl Snyder were slightly burned. The teacher had dismissed school to attend a funeral, but nine of the pupils, living a considerable distance from the buildings, remained within to await the passing of a threatened rainstorm.

WOMAN SWINDLER FINED.

Van Wert, O., Oct. 12.—Mary Hirtle, of Toledo, the woman arrested after she had victimized two of the local business houses by the short-change method, sobered up sufficiently to conclude she didn't like her quarters in the county jail, and that she had better plead guilty and pay the penalty; accordingly she was again taken before Squire Manship, who assessed her a fine of $25 and costs, it being understood that she is to reimburse the merchants she defrauded.

ELOPES AS HER SISTER DID.

Bluffton, Ind., Oct. 12.—Carmou Crouse, this city, and Miss Bessie Lanning, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lanning of near Vera Cruz, eloped to Hillsdale, Mich., and were married there. Ten days ago Miss Lanning's sister, Miss Rhine, eloped to Hillsdale and became the bride of James Grove, living south of Bluffton.

STRUCK BY AUTO TRUCK.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Inez May Sowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Sowers, is recovering from bruises received when struck by an automobile truck. With other school children, the child was playing in the street at recess time and ran in front of the machine, which was running slowly. She was knocked to one side else her injuries would have been more serious.

CARNIVAL ATTACHES FINED.

Hartford City, Ind., Oct. 12.—Jasper Hefflin and Harry Dale, carnival attaches, arrested for operating gambling devices on the festival grounds, changed their pleas from not guilty to guilty in Justice Croninger's court and each drew a fine of $5 and costs, amounting to $11.00. They settled.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

11 Chronicles 10:1-13.

1 And Rehoboam went to Shechem: for to Shechem were all Israel come to make him king.

2 And it came to pass, when Jeroboam the son of Nebat, who was in Egypt, whether he had fled from the presence of Solomon the king, heard it, that Jeroboam returned out of Egypt.

3 And they sent and called him. So Jeroboam and all Israel came and spake to Rehoboam, saying,

4 Thy father made our yoke grievous: now therefore ease thou somewhat the grievous servitude of thy father, and his heavy yoke that he put upon us, and we will serve thee.

5 And he said unto them, Come again unto me after three days. And the people departed.

6 And king Rehoboam took counsel with the old men that had stood before Solomon his father while he yet lived, saying, What counsel give ye me to return answer to this people?

7 And they spake unto him, saying, If thou be kind to this people, and please them, and speak good words to them, they will be thy servants for ever.

8 But he forsook the counsel which the old men gave him, and took counsel with the younger men that were brought up with him, that stood before him.

9 And he said unto them, What advice give ye that we may return answer to this people, which have spoken to me, saying, Ease somewhat the yoke that thy father did put upon us?

10 And the young men that were brought up with him spake unto him, saying, Thus shalt thou answer the people that spake unto thee, saying, Thy father made our yoke heavy, but make thou it somewhat lighter for us; thus shalt thou say unto them, My little finger shall be thicker than my father's loins.

11 For whereas my father put a heavy yoke upon you, I will put more to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips, but I will chastise you with scorpions.

12 So Jeroboam and all the people came to Rehoboam on the third day, as the king bade, saying, Come again to me on the third day.

Municipal Credit Needed.

Supporting the proposal for a constitutional convention in Indiana next year, Roscoe M. Woods, a Hammond real estate man, has written a forceful letter in which he discusses some phases of the situation that have not entered into the general consideration of the problem. Among these is the need for more extended municipal credit among the progressive Indiana cities which are seeking to do things.

Mr. Woods cites the fact that had it not been for the growth of the Indiana industrial cities, the population of the state at the last census would have undoubtedly shown a falling off instead of an increase. These cities, forging ahead rapidly and confronted constantly by new demands in caring for increased growth and increased opportunity, are circumscribed by the present 2 per cent. constitutional limitation on credit. It is one of the many things that needs remedying. Schools, park systems and many other municipal enterprises are hampered and retarded by reason of it, and the public is denied advantages for which it is willing to pay and which it insistently demands. Yet the proscription against municipal indebtedness in excess of the 2 per cent. valuation intervenes to throttle growth and to hamper progress.

Indiana needs a new constitution in order to free itself from the shackles of archaic limitations well enough, perhaps, in their day, but their day was sixty years ago. You can aid in striking off the bonds by voting "yes" on the constitutional convention question in November.

What were presumed to be the strongest and most impregnable fortifications in the world—those at Antwerp—have been crumbled by the modern siege gun in ten or eleven days of assault. The perfectly obvious moral of the situation seems to be that fortifications are in the last analysis practically useless and futile, after all. Perhaps, too, the outcome of this terrific European struggle will be some other plan than the martial one for adjusting national differences. Two months of the test on a gigantic scale have been utterly void of any progress toward peace. The chief hope in the continuation of the struggle is that it shall finally lead all the nations to an acceptance of the fact that exact justice has quite as much chance of recognition in arbitration as in the arbitrament of the sword, the siege gun, the dreadnaught and the aircraft.

The Allen county democratic candidates, who are now engaged in the active pre-election canvass, are being kindly received everywhere by the rank and file of the voters, and the ticket is one which is appealing strongly to the people by reason of the general high calibre of the men who compose it. There is every indication that it will receive the positive endorsement of a victory at the polls in November.

Unless present plans shall be overturned by some unexpected contingency, congress is to bring the present session to adjournment next Saturday evening, with the prospect that it will be unnecessary to again convene before the regular session in December. It's going to seem a bit strange for a time to try to get along without congress in session, but the country has nerved itself up to the point where it is willing to attempt it.

In connection with the coming of the Indiana conference of the Daughters of American Revolution to Fort Wayne tomorrow, ladies of the local chapter make the request that business houses display flags, and we trust the suggestion may be generally adopted. It is never out of place to fly the Stars and Stripes, and it is particularly fitting to do so while the city has as its guests these descendants of the Revolutionary fathers.

PRESS ON BATTLE IN "Matter of Speculation." NORTHERN FRANCE.

San Francisco Chronicle:—"So nearly equal are the rival armies operating in France and Belgium that there is yet no certain indication as to the result in that region, while the ultimate outcome of the war itself is as much a matter of speculation as ever."

"Would Not End War."

Providence Journal:—"Even if the French and British should accomplish the destruction or capture of the armies confronting them, and the Russians should have the same success, that would not necessarily signify that the end of the war is in sight."

"A Fight for Life."

Detroit Free Press:—"The fierce assaults of the Teutonic divisions are becoming more and more a fight for life and less and less part of an aggressive movement for conquest."

"The Russians."

Cleveland Plain Dealer:—"It is generally admitted that the Franco-Belgian forces would never be able, by a crushing invasion of Germany, to bring the Kaiser to terms. Their endeavor is merely to keep busy a large part of the German forces while the Russians pursue their offensive campaign."

"Hope of the Allies."

"Difficult."

Pittsburgh Dispatch:—"In a battle line 100 miles long, nearly all of it fortified and some of it sustained by fortifications of great strength and consisting of a million or more men on each side, it is difficult, if not impossible, for an action to be a decisive victory or defeat."

"A Big Job."

Buffalo Courier:—"Lord Kitchener is to raise a British army of more than one million men. Nobody knows better than Kitchener that what he has set out to do is a mighty big job."

REFORM IN INDIANA.

It is easy enough to achieve reform in Indiana. With every other male citizen a novelist and every female a poet, hearts are continually uplifted and the call of the printed word is loud. As, for instance, in the present mighty campaign against the five "D's"—dirt, dampness, darkness, drink, disease. Prevention day, it was, last Friday, and all Indiana turned out to march in aid of the cause. Floats and banners, school girls dressed in white carrying nothings, trumpets, bands, made great a day already memorable through these orders issued by the state board of health:

"Let every home, each front yard and back yard, the rear of stores, and all streets and alleys be made specially clean for Disease Prevention day. Let each person wear clean clothes on that day, take a bath, put on a clean shirt, clean socks and clean collar, and get his shoes shined. Get a hair cut and a shave, wash your hands and face, clean your finger nails, and don't spit on the sidewalk. Let everybody be clean and talk cleanliness and health."

In short, all Indiana took a bath. Nor did persons rest her weary limbs here. After the scrubbing and polishing and parading came education, when such filthy little thoughts as these were incanted upon the Indiana mind: "The only good fly is the dead fly." "Well, don't allow your better disciplines than will keep cleanliness." "Public health is public wealth." "Don't let the rat and swat the fly." "Don't take patent medicines." "All the time is clean-up time." "Dirt, dirt, dampness, darkness, drink will always kill."

We envy Indiana for more than all her thousand novelists, her faith in ideas and her ability to make them work.

The places of the laborers on the Barber asphalt gang on Wayne street who struck for an increase of wages from 15 to 17 1/2 cents an hour have been filled and the work is going forward.

Capt. W. W. Mungen and Second Lieutenant David S. Eckert, of the Zollinger battery, have received their commissions from the governor.

Peter Ceria and C. F. Pfeiffer have purchased for a paltry sum the land along the north side of the St. Mary's river from the Wells street bridge to the Clinton street bridge. They will fill it and protect it with a wall to a point 120 feet east of Wells street. On this part of the tract they will erect a two-story frame building with store-rooms below and lodgings above, giving Bloomsbach her only hotel.

In nearly two hundred schools in Ireland instruction is carried on in both Irish and English, as part of the program to revive interest in the Gaelic language and literature.

RECORD OF DRUNKS FOR SERMON BASIS

Rev. O. E. Tones Draws from Police Blotter for Sunday Discourse.

Fort Wayne police records involving arrests for drunkenness supplied the basis for a sermon on "What the Saloon Costs in Character," delivered by Rev. O. E. Tones at the West Jefferson Street Church of Christ on Sunday.

"Officers Michael Laughlin and Charles Westerman while off duty were called on to keep Leo Bogner and his gang of lecherous sports from cleaning out the Edwin," said Rev. Mr. Tones. "What followed? Fight, broken heads, police station, court, fines and jail."

Rev. Mr. Tones then quoted from the police reports in the local newspapers during the past week, dealing with a score of well known police characters. Continuing, he said in part:

"These only partly portray the ravages of the saloon in the realm of character. Such records are spread on the pages of the dailies in every city in the country where the saloon is allowed to run its business. Literally tens of thousands are ground through the police courts of the country weekly on the charge of 'plain drunk.' Other thousands are in the law courts for one crime or another as the direct result of the liquor traffic."

"Every crime means a ruined character. That is the price we are paying for the saloon."

"See a crowd on the corner and hear the clang of the police patrol. What is the matter? Only a drunk! Yes, only a drunk; but every drunk means a blighted life. Almost every drunk means that somewhere there is a home of sorrow, a mother's heart broken."

"Only a drunk, but if that drunk is your boy, your brother, your father, what a difference! Read the record in Monday's paper. Five or ten arrested and for everyone taken up for disorderly conduct a dozen go home to fight and brawl and 'sleep it off' in the presence of wife and children or mother. If a mad dog should bite one-half as many people as will be drunk in town today the whole police force would be gunning for that dog. Sure, the dog might even have a license, but that would make no difference, he would be a 'dead dog' as soon as one of our policemen got close enough to hit him. But no such treatment is accorded the business that spreads madness and disease and death throughout the community."

"Who made and sold the liquor that made 'Tony' Trentman drunk? Who will stand by his side at the judgment bar of God to give an account for the deeds done in the flesh? How far will we all be guilty for allowing the existence of an institution that causes drunks and debauchery, death and damnation? This business which takes two million dollars from the pockets of the people and gives in return a record of drunks must continue because it helps to pay taxes. This nefarious institution which contributes more than any other to bad government exists because we, the voters, allow it to live. It robs, it blights, it kills and our sensibilities have become hardened to it all. Talk about war, its brutality, its inhuman spirit! Those hundreds of thousands fighting like mad in Europe today are fighting for principle, or at least they think they are. They are driven into the conflict by patriotism, false though it may be. They are dying as heroes. But the liquor traffic is a premeditated thing, calmly and knowingly the individual decides to enter the business. Deliberately the government has gone into business with him. That business kills its thousands and the government knows it. Wives and mothers weep over the fallen soldiers, but they are proud to give them to the country's service. Wives and mothers weep over the lives wrecked by strong drink and forever hang their heads in shame. War is respectable in comparison with this whole selfish, sinful business."

SAYS DEMOCRATS NEED FUNDS.

National Chairman McCombs Issues Appeal for Campaign Funds.

Washington, Oct. 12.—William F. McCombs, chairman of the democratic national committee, conferred with Chairman Doremus, of the congressional campaign committee and other leaders regarding the fall campaign. Before leaving for New York last night, he issued the following appeal to the American people:

"The democratic national committee needs money with which to meet the necessary expenses of the present campaign. The splendid record of the president and congress is its own best advocate, but it is our manifest duty to spare no effort to place the facts clearly before the people in order to insure the return of a democratic congress. And the cost of printing and traveling must be met. I therefore appeal most earnestly to all citizens who would uphold the president by winning a vote of confidence in his administration to send contributions immediately to Rolla Wells, treasurer of the democratic national committee, St. Louis, Mo."

America heads the list with 66,663 postoffices; Germany is second, with 49,848; then follows England, with 23,738; Russia, with 18,000; France, with 13,000, and Italy and Austria, each with 9,500.

stition which contributes more than any other to bad government exists because we, the voters, allow it to live. It robs, it blights, it kills and our sensibilities have become hardened to it all. SHELLS ON AMERICAN SOIL.

Shots From Maytorena's Guns Drop Across Mexican Line.

Naco, Ariz., Oct. 12.—Four shells from Maytorena's guns fell on American territory Saturday night during a renewed attack by Villa adherents on the Carranza garrison of Naco, Sonora.

General Hill, commanding the garrison of Naco, lost eight killed and 37 wounded. Maytorena's loss is reported to be from 20 to 200.

One of the four shells wrecked a large residence. Another damaged property near the United States customs house. The others fell in a stock field and in a mercantile establishment.

shortly before midnight. Hand to hand fighting in the trenches resulted. The engagement continued an hour before the Indians finally retired.

It was reported that a band of Yaqui were pursued east of Naco by General Hill's soldiers. Several Yaquis crossed the boundary line in order to attack the Naco garrison in the rear. They were promptly disarmed. Previously American soldiers were fired upon and returned the fire.

$5,000,000 Wet and Dry War Envelops Nation--Fight in Five States Greatest in Country's History

Only one of the angles of the wet and dry campaign. An Alabama distillery, hoping to win over voters, is buying up large quantities of cotton in the "buy-a-bale" movement and exhibiting them, with its name printed on huge banners.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 12.--Wet or dry? Which?

Voters of five states will decide at the polls in November the biggest battle the two factions have ever experienced. Money is to be spent. The amount is estimated at $5,000,000.

Victory for either side will be decisive. Whichever wins will dominate congress when it considers the Hobson resolution, which proposes an amendment to the constitution to end the liquor traffic in the United States.

Ten states--Maine, West Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Georgia, Oklahoma, Mississippi, North Dakota, and, just recently, Virginia--have already joined the dry column. In five more--Ohio, California, Oregon, Washington and Colorado--prohibition is an issue. In the four western states women have the franchise.

The hardest fight is in Ohio and it is being waged on a titanic scale. A campaign fund six times as large as that of republicans, democrats and progressives combined is to be spent. Five times the number of workers in all other parties are in the field, and it is estimated that the wets and dries will give out ten times the campaign literature issued by all of the other parties.

Ohio wets made a desperate fight against local option, but they have given ground slowly. In the western states the fight was largely in the legislatures and on the size of the unit. In all of these states, however, only the larger towns and cities remain wet.

The fight against liquor centers in five states, but the saloon is a live issue in practically all of the others.

Alabama distillers are making the election of legislators their cause, for it is proposed to put the state back in the parched column. In Illinois the battle is being waged in localities which are still wet. Though interest is scattered, it is keen and the campaign is to conclude with 602 meetings of the dries in one week.

The prohibitionists, which have had, up to 1914, to make their fight alone, now have the support of some of the state political machines. Idaho will go dry at the meeting of the 1915 legislature, as the platform of the republican, democratic and progressive parties have all declared for state-wide prohibition. The progressives have entered the fight in other states as well. In Ohio, Indiana, Maine, Kansas and Missouri they have taken a stand against the liquor traffic.

YOUNG ARMOUR GOES TO WORK

Dressed as Laborer, He Attacks Job in Uncle's Stock Yard.

Chicago, Oct. 12.--They put on a new "hand" at the stockyards the other day. Wears overalls, high boots and a blue flannel shirt just like the rest of the "pig-stickers" and "butchers" but he doesn't carry a dinner pail and when he kicks off his rubber boots at six o'clock he doesn't tramp off to a shanty "back of the yards," nor does he join the "bunch" of cut-throats at the Silver Dollar bar.

Nothing like that for a good looking

young chap with square shoulders, the carefully brushed hair, and the soft white hands. It's a perfumed bath for him, and a real automobile to speed him away from the sickening odors of Packingtown to the gentle zephyrs of Lake Forest. For the new "hand" is none other than Philip D. Armour II, namesake and grandson of the founder of the great American packing industry, just graduated from Yale and the very best tango stepper, and golf player at Lake Forest.

Young Armour is on the packing plant payroll as a cattle buyer, he works from seven in the morning until six at night. It will be four years before he graduates from the stockyards, and by that time he'll know exactly how much a fat steer weighs on the hoof, and he'll be able to recognize a Missouri "razor-back" wherever he meets him, and he'll know at a glance just how much hard cash the steer and the razorback represent in the way of canned beef and pork sausage.

In going to work as a day laborer in the "pens" young Armour is following the example of his father, and his uncle.

BOY, 11, SAVES FOUR FROM DEATH

Rescues Quartet Endangered When Auto Plunges Into Bayou.

Baton Rouge, La., Oct. 12.--Crossing Bayou Manchac, near here, the automobile of L. U. Babin, of Baton Rouge, slid off the antiquated ferry and plunged into eighteen feet of water.

Lloyd Babin, eleven, his aunt and uncle, L. U. Babin and wife, and the former's aged father, were pegged by the auto canopy.

Lloyd managed to free himself as Babin got his wife and old father loose. The boy reached the ferry and when the panic-stricken negro operator didn't heed his cries to help save his aunt and uncle the youngster pushed him into the water. Mrs. Babin grabbed the negro by the neck and kept afloat while Lloyd swam to her with a rope, one end of which was tied to the ferry.

All grabbed the rope and were saved--the aunt and uncle, old man and the negro--by the heroism of Lloyd.

CASE IS BAFFLING ONE.

Chicago Man Sleeps 100 Hours Without Awakening.

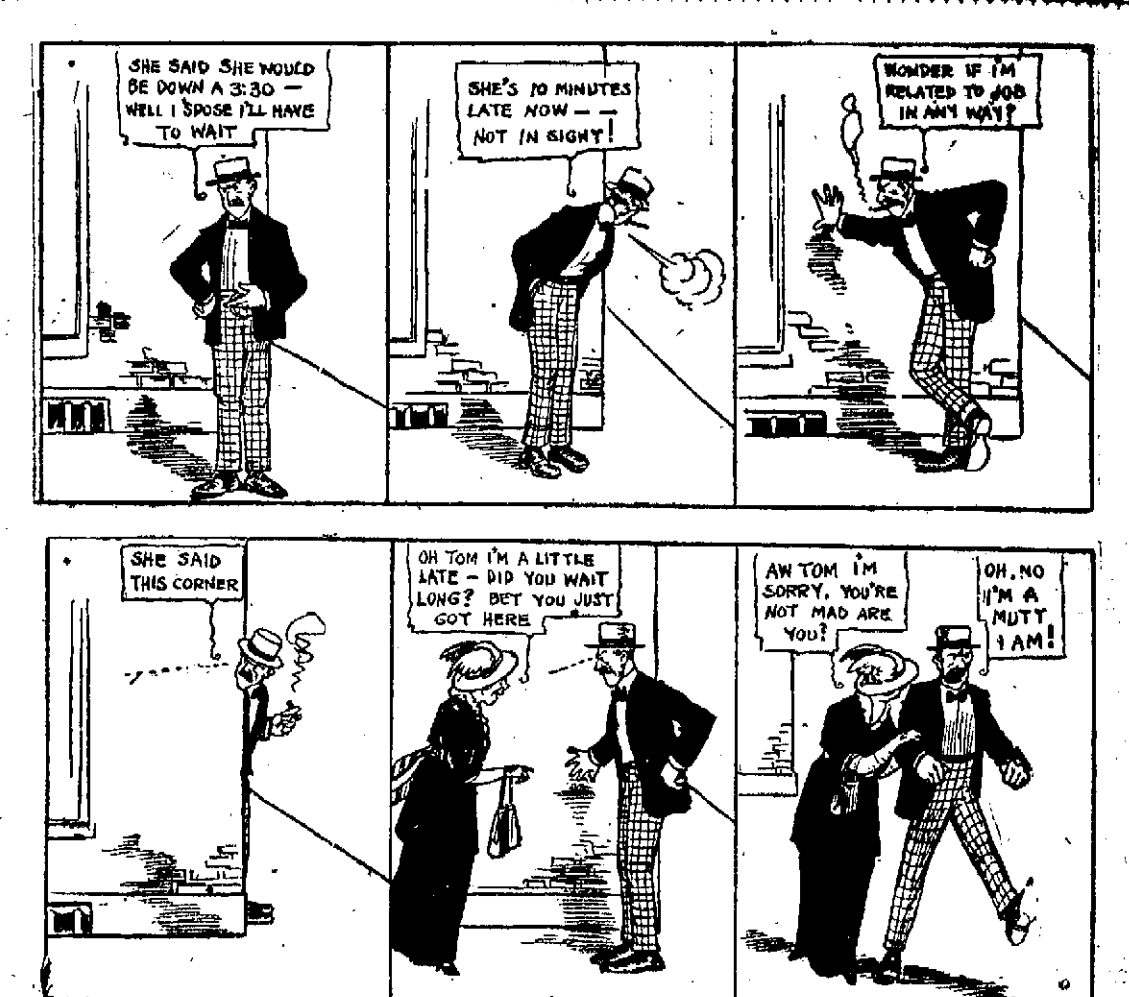

Chicago, Oct. 12.--Charles Freeman has lain in a state of semi-coma at the Alexian brothers' hospital for the past 100 hours. He presents one of the most baffling and interesting cases Chicago physicians have ever encountered.

Freeman, who is fifty-three years old, sat down in a chair after work to "smoke a pipeful before going home." He apparently went to sleep, but all efforts to arouse him by his companions were futile.

Mrs. Freeman said her husband had had a similar attack of this nature when he was a boy thirteen years old and lived in Memphis, Tenn.

"His parents thought he was dead and had prepared for his funeral," she said. "My husband told me of it. He said he remained unconscious for several days. He came to while they were dressing him for the casket. Physicians then were unable to diagnose the case and gave it up. But he has never had another attack until now."

Only the immediate relatives were

at the elaborate breakfast served after

a handsome king's blue broadcloth tailored suit made with long tunic and fashionable coat, a white lace blouse

bird of paradise feathers. The bride wore a carriage bouquet of chrysanthem-

October frost. The bride is fair and

The house was beautifully decorated

with branches of woodbine, now in its

gorgeous coloring and blossoms of the

"Why Girls Leave Home"—Majestic

This Evening.

An unusually big Monday afternoon

party witnessed the opening performance of "Why Girls Leave Home," in

which the Oscar F. Cook Stock company

will be seen again this evening and tomorrow afternoon and evening at the Majestic theater. The show is the kind

company's second appearance in Fort

of the people that saw this afternoon's performance had seen it before, but "wanted to enjoy it again," as one

man phrased it.

Special Matinee for "The Dummy."

Barney, the boy detective, is the latest of a long line of stage detectives,

and the hero of "The Dummy," the

six months at the Hudson theater, New

at the Majestic theater Wednesday,

matinee and night.

"The Dummy" is the most novel and amusing play of the New York season,

a yellow book detective plot of a kid-

napping case, its four acts ranging from

Wood" climax as whimsical as a Lewis

in "The Wolf."

"The Wolf," with Louise Dunbar and

associated players will be offered at the

Majestic for an engagement of three days, starting Thursday. "The Wolf" is a romantic drama of the Hudson Bay

fur company, in three acts and three

concerns vengeance wreaked upon an

fore the story opens, had deserted a

girl, Annette, dies in a storm, but in Montreal there lives a half-brother, who had promised his dying father to search for the girl. He discovers McDonald is

the man he seeks and that he is tempt-

ing Hilda, the daughter of a Scotch

Joseph Norman, a young man thirty-two years of age, in Wilkesbarre. The little lot on which it stands is guarded by a stretch of heavy rope, which no one from the outside may pass and beyond which Joseph Norman may not stray.

For Norman, until a few weeks ago, a happy young husband and father of two chubby little boys, six and two years old, has been pronounced a sufferer from leprosy and henceforth must be shunned by all men.

Already no friend of other days attempts to pass the heaped barrier which confines the leper to his home. Yet that home still holds today all that made its happiest hours. For Joseph Norman's wife has refused to leave him and as yet her two little children have not been taken away.

Touched by Mrs. Norman's plea that she be permitted to share her husband's fate, Edwin B. Morgan, city commissioner of health, has agreed to permit her to remain in her home. But he declares that the two little boys must leave.

"It would be a crime to permit the children to grow up with a leper," he said.
Confronted by the terrible tragedy of having to choose between her husband or her children Mrs. Norman did not hesitate. She gave herself, as good women always do, to the greater need. "My sons have health and friends to love and care for them. My husband now has only me. Everybody shuns him—he is afraid of him. But I love him more than ever, and whether he stays here or is sent away to a leper colony he will find me by his side. What I do is nothing—only what I gave my word

Joseph Norman owns the home to which he may be confined for the rest of his life with no living companion save the devoted wife who has refused to leave him. Until a few months ago he worked in a rope factory in Wilkesbarre and had saved money enough to pay off the mortgage on the little home he had bought for his wife and their children, Leo and George.

Then a peculiar eruption appeared on his skin. Local physicians told him at first that it was eczema, but finally advised him to go to Philadelphia for treatment. In that city the authorities of the hospital he visited pronounced him a tubercular leper, placed him in an automobile and rushed him back to his home at night, sending word to the Wilkesbarre authorities that "your leper is in his home again."

Then an employee of the Wilkesbarre health department visited the Norman home and took Mrs. Norman and the children away. The wife, thought she had to go. But the next day she took her eldest boy and visited the office of Health Commissioner Morgan, threw herself on her knees before him, begged to be allowed to share her husband's living tomb.

Touched by the woman's tears the official consented, telling her, however, that to return to Norman meant that she would never see her little children again.

The woman who made this remarkable choice is young and comely. She has dark hair and eyes which shine with the light of a great heroism. Standing outside the rope which must forever separate her from the outer world, I talked with this wonderful martyr to wifely love.

"I have not done anything extraordinary," she said. "I vowed to take my husband for better or worse, and worse has come to him! In his hour of doom when everyone abandons him I am proud to remain and share his martyrdom. I have read about other times when the leper had to carry a bell and ring it to warn people that he was coming along the road and that he had to call out, "Unclean! Unclean!" so that those who were afraid could hide themselves.

"It is not so very different today. Nobody wants my husband. The United States government has refused to allow him to go and live in a leper colony. It wrote Superintendent Morgan that it has no provision for the national care of lepers and that each city must care for its own. They leave our food outside and I take it in. They have not decided yet what to do with us. But wherever they send my husband I will go with him. I will care for him always. And if I, too, become a leper that will be just another bond between us. I love him and I am not afraid!"

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

There are many times when one man questions another's actions and motives. Men act differently under different circumstances. The question is, what would you do right now if you had a severe cold? Could you do better than to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy? It is highly recommended by people who have used it for years and know its value. Mrs. O. E. Sargent, Peru, Ind., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is worth its weight in gold and I take pleasure in recommending it." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

Reliable and Crisp
News AlwaysCHAMPIONS READY FOR HARD FIGHT
TO STOP THE MARCH OF THE BRAVESAlmost the Last Ditch for the Mackmen and They Went Into the Monday Game All Keyed Up for a Strong Fight.

Boston, Oct. 12.—Fenway park, scene of memorable games in the world's series of 1912, was ready Monday for staging the third game in the series of 1914, between the Boston Braves, winners in the National league, and the Philadelphia American league champions and defenders of the world's title. It was almost a last ditch defense which the men from Philadelphia prepared to make during the afternoon, as their opponents had won both of the games already played. Victorious today, the Bostonians will need only one game to gain the world's base ball honors.

Weather conditions could not have been better. A bright sun developed an atmosphere of summer, tempered somewhat by a cooling breeze from the southwest. Thousands of persons moved on Fenway park during the morning to join the hundreds who had held places during the night in lines that led to the bleacher entrances. The first few arrived at noon Sunday; by nightfall the waiting numbered a score. At midnight the line was 200 strong and as the sun rose over the back bay fence there were more than 500 people in six lines. Some slept on the ground, others had brought straw, a few had equipped themselves with comforts.

Bonfires to keep them warm. Bonfires were started, but were extinguished by police who stood guard through the night. There were nearly 20,000 rush seats, 3,000 of which were to be had for 50 cents each. The others sold for $1. It was required that the purchaser enter the grounds immediately and thus precluded speculation.

With 15,000 grandstand seats disposed of, indications were that the number of spectators would be about 35,000. This would mean receipts of $65,000. Boston went into this afternoon's game a strong favorite for the series. A conference of Manager Connie Mack and the Athletics players at their hotel Sunday night had given the Philadelphiaans new hope. A change in their style of play was expected, the plan of campaign previously decided upon having proved entirely inadequate.

Only desperate measures, it was believed, could bring the champions on even terms with the Braves and those they were prepared to take. The Athletics, one of the fastest teams in baseball, have stolen only one base in two games. This was one department of play in which they planned to take more chances.

Can't Steal First Base.

But bases cannot be stolen until first is reached and the Boston pitchers have given few Mackmen an opportunity to reach the first station. The Philadelphiaans have gotten but seven hits in two games from the deliveries of Rudolph and James. No man on the entire Philadelphia team who has been at bat more than once has an average of .300. The best is Strunk at .256. Such heavy hitters as Eddie Collins and "Home Run" Baker have gotten only one hit each and have averaged, respectively, .166 and .143. Oldring, Melvin and Barry, all rated as good hitters, have gone without a hit in five and six times at bat. Never in world's series history have so many consistent hitters slumped.

Whether Manager Stallings could choose his pitcher so wisely as to keep Philadelphia hits at a minimum was a question. In the usual order of things Tyler would be pitcher. Tyler is considered to be of a temperamental disposition, the encouragement of a home crowd and a suggestion to his team to beat at the best. Tyler elements were present in the situation and it was thought that his port side crosscut would issue from the Boston box. The "purple man" however, would not consent. He mentioned Ted Doolittle and Hays, the latter a veteran of many campaigns, as possible substitutes. The same line with Tyler, Manager Mack's problem was a more serious one. A. J. Greig, Fowler and Frank Foster, pitchers who have fallen before the Boston bats, had as an idol was knocked from his pedestal being forced from the game. Frank returned some corner in holding the Braves runnerless for eight innings.

Only the youngsters left. The young pitchers were left for choice. Prominent among these was Bush, nicknamed "Rabbit Joe" who pitched his team to victory over New York in the third game of the series last year, and pitched himself a record in a game in the world's series last fall. Hays, former captain, and now the coach of the Athletics, said he thought Bush would be selected.

Bressler, a left-handed youth with little experience, but with a baffling curve and cool head, was considered a likely candidate. He lost only two games during the American league season. The players of both teams having rested Sunday and Monday early, were about the hotels early Sunday morning. All reported themselves in good condition. Rudolph said he was holding himself in readiness to pitch if necessary. "I asked Stallings last night whether I was likely to start. He said, 'I am a fiddle and ready to go back again, but I can beat those birds again, believe me. But I think George Tyler will get the word, just watch him.'"

The players of both teams were discussing a statement by Empire Brown, who gave decisions on the bases in the engagement Saturday. The arbiter said that had Maranville failed to complete the double play which ended the game he

Friar Schedule Open and Committee at Work—
Mapleton Easy.

Members of the Friar Athletic board are unable to announce the name of the club that will play here next Sunday because they have not secured a booking and after the rather poor showings made by the Mapleton Athletic club they will make thorough investigations before they make a contract.

There is one thing certain, however, and that is that the Friars have improved wonderfully in their play because the Mapleton team is one that all of the other independents entertain a high opinion of and a defeat of 28 to 6 is something that will create proper respect for the Friar team.

About 500 people saw the game, and it proved the contention of the management that well known clubs must be sought out and brought here. The Friars or Walsh would have drawn three times as many people. Every effort is being made to land a good club for the next game, and as soon as this is done most of the trouble of the athletic board will have been overcome as the rest of the schedule is with clubs that are certain to make showings.

Efforts to land a team from Detroit failed, and one of the greatest of all difficulties is to get the best independent clubs to leave their own grounds. They are looking for games and would readily book the Friars for a game on their fields but the local aggregation cannot afford to leave home.

Ten minutes after the game started on Sunday the Friars had found the weakness of the enemy and after piling up a score in the first period that insured victory they began the execution of a number of plays that had been worked out in practice and this made the game interesting and also gave the local gridders a workout for the difficult schedule they will face after the game next Sunday.

Fort Wayne had the ball most of the time from the jump and a little play in the second quarter would have kept the enemy scoreless through the game. Leftwood had not played until this game but he showed excellent condition and did some defensive work that promised good results in the remaining games.

Island, the Indian player, was in part of the game but he had not played before this season and was taken out because he was winded. Connor, left tackle of the Mapleton team, sustained a broken leg in the second half and was taken home last night by his teammates after Dr. J. E. McCardle had dressed the injured member.

BARE FEET A FIRE ALARM.

Girl Student's Ties Discover Blaze in Dormitory.

Philadelphia, Oct. 12.—The bare feet of Miss Jean Largeman, a seventeen-year-old student at the Rebecca Gratz house, 721 North Sixth street, served the admirable purpose early in the morning of a fire alarm when a blaze, starting in the dormitory, threatened to destroy the four-story building.

Miss Largeman was awakened when her feet, which were sticking beyond the covers, became unpleasantly warm. This fact aroused her curiosity, and as the night air was somewhat chilly, and as a result she discovered the fire. The flames had spread from an adjoining room, and were dangerously near her bed. Jumping up, she called Miss Rose Sorkin, another girl, and they gave the alarm.

In an instant forty-six young women in night attire made their escape from the building, some down the fire escapes and others out the doors. Their presence of mind and lack of hysteria prevented a panic. The fire was extinguished before it caused much damage.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 12.—By working her way around the world by her wits, Miss Hilma Gilbert won for Jack London, the famous novelist, a $5,000 wager.

MACKMEN TURN THE TABLES AT BOSTON

The enclosure. A force of carpenters repaired the fence. All this was three hours before game time. When the crowd was not surging it was cheering. Outside the fences, unable to gain admittance, thousands clamored vainly to get in. The gates were closed, however, and barred by the police.

Weather Is Ideal. An Indian summer day was furnished for the contest. The sun glowed brightly in a clear sky and the air was balmy. The playing field was flint dry and lightning fast. Batting was 10 to 7 on the Boston side to take the series. Wagers at these odds were made at noon.

Batting practice was lively and the long drives of the home club were vigorously cheered by the crowd. Gordy, heavy hitter of the first game, smashed a ball into the temporary bleachers. Fielding practice was mechanically perfect and executed with a snap and brilliancy that stirred the spectators to salvos of applause. Maranville and Evers, Barry and Collins working around the middle section made chain-lightning pivot plays and scintillating scoops and stops.

The Bostoners were served in batting practice by the southpaw Cottrell and Cochrane, a right hander. Rudolph took part in batting practice along with the left hander, Tyler.

Before play was called, Captain Evers of the Boston team was presented with an automobile in recognition of being the most valuable player to his team in the national league. Ira Thomas went into the box and pitched during the athletic workout. It looked as though they expected Rudolph to face them today. Strunk has been suffering from a bad finger during the series and it was said Walsh would play center field in his place today.

Manager Stallings was presented with a diamond stick pin and a gold ball by Mayor Curley, of Boston, on behalf of the city government. John Evers was presented with a gold bat by Mayor Curley.

TO OPEN CHICAGO BANK.

Washington, Oct. 12.—The three Class C directors of the Chicago federal reserve bank, C. H. Bosworth, of Chicago; W. J. McAllister, of Columbia City, Ind.; and Edwin T. Meredith, of Des Moines, Ia., have conferred with the federal reserve board on plans for opening the Chicago bank. The board told the three directors that it is anxious to have the arrangements for putting the bank into operation completed as soon as possible.

The three directors will go from here to Chicago, where there will be a meeting of the full directorate for the purpose of electing a governor and a vice governor of the bank. Mr. McAllister told the board that he proposes to move from Columbia City to Chicago in order that he may give his entire time to the reserve bank. Mr. Meredith does not expect to give up his publishing business in Des Moines.

TONER ISSUES STATEMENT.

Says Progressives Favor Movement for Constitutional Convention.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 12.—Edward C. Toner, chairman of the progressive state committee, has issued a statement strongly supporting the movement for a constitutional convention for Indiana. "We are urging the people not only to vote for a constitutional convention," he says in reference to the work of the state progressive organization, but to organize and make a comprehensive campaign and induce a majority of all the voters to vote "Yes" on the white ballot in November. "There may be no particular partisanship in the demand for a new constitution, yet it is true that the fundamental strength of the progressive party lies in the fact that it has made a great fight for the people on the issue of a new constitution."

SAYS INEQUALITIES ARE LESS.

Director of Mint Discusses Distribution of Wealth.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Discussing complaints of inequality of the distribution of wealth, George E. Roberts, director of the mint, addressed at a banquet the closing session of the convention of farm mortgage brokers. The speaker held that at bottom there is nothing to be equalized but personal expenditures, which, he said, raised the question whether capitalists of industry consume an undue share of the products of the country, or whether there would be more products for general distribution under government ownership. He said that present differences among citizens as to food, clothing, opportunities for culture—all the really good things of life—were less than ever before.

County Buildings Open, But Little Business Goes on Holiday.

Discovery day, a legal holiday in honor of Christopher Columbus, was manifested about the court house Monday, notwithstanding the big county building was open throughout and the courts were in session. Very little was doing outside the daily routine. No cases of special importance were heard and no new suits of moment were filed. Not even a marriage license had been issued up to 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Aged Man Gets a Divorce. In the superior court Monday morning Judge Yaple granted a decree of divorce to Cyrus K. Fairfield, one of the oldest surviving residents of Allen county. It was shown that the plaintiff's wife, Belle A. Fairfield, had deserted and abandoned him several years ago and that she is now residing in Italy.

Long Island. The two were married in 1892. The plaintiff gave his age as 78 years. He comes of one of the earliest pioneer families in Allen county and is widely known. Files Amended Complaint. Cyril C. Baxter has filed in the superior court an amended complaint for divorce from Edna Baxter. The plaintiff on many serious charges against her, saying that she nagged and abused him, did not prepare his meals, did not keep her house in order and gave violent display of temper when he reproved her for untidiness. He alleges that last June she went to a dance and spent most of the time in the arms of a man on the porch of the house. She is further charged with having kept company with a painter named Hanna and to have displayed her affection for him in the presence of the Baxters' five-year-old child and in view of the neighbors. Baxter asks custody of the child.

Notes of the Courts.

Wolf & Desauer have filed suit in the circuit court against M. E. Rice and Lee J. Irvin demanding $150 on mechanics' lien. The suit involves a bill for improvements made upon a house owned by Rice which he sold to Irvin. J. George Lauer has brought suit in the superior court against George Dager and Frederick and Elizabeth Koller man on mechanics' lien, demanding $850. The superior court has granted a divorce to Frances E. Burgoyne from Thomas Burgoyne. James C. Carnahan, receiver in the suit of Robert and Charles Burgess vs. Jacob Harrison, et al., has filed his final report in the superior court and has been discharged. Theodore Havert has filed suit in the superior court against Emma Harta for foreclosure of a mechanics' lien, demanding $150.

FRED BUSHMAN IS ASSESSOR.

Qualifies as Successor to Brother as Wayne Township Official.

Fred Bushman on Monday accepted the appointment as assessor of Wayne township to succeed his brother, the late John A. Bushman, whose death took place last week following a prolonged illness. The new appointee at once filed his bond and took possession of the office. The appointment was made by County Auditor Calvin H. Brown, upon the duty involved by law. The new assessor will make no changes in the force of deputies who had assisted his brother in the office. The appointment is considered an eminently good one and it is believed Auditor Brown's choice will give general satisfaction.

WILL BE PAID TUESDAY.

County Auditor Calvin H. Brown has announced that all registration employees will receive their pay in the auditor's office Tuesday. The commissioners look over the claims and allow the bills.

PUSHING THE CONTRACTORS.

Mayor and Board of Works Put Spurs to City Workers.

Mayor Hoesy and Messrs. Singrey, Keely and Hilgeman, of the board of public works, put in a good part of Monday visiting the various contractors engaged upon municipal improvements and urged them to make more rapid progress. With cold weather not far off the administration is anxious to have all public work now under way cleaned up before a hard freeze interferes. Contractors were told to increase their forces and speed up. Several important paving jobs must be completed this fall. Mammoth avenue, Wayne trace, Grant avenue and Putnam street being among them. It is believed that the Mammoth avenue job can be completed within a week.

The voters of Indiana will be called upon at the election of November 3rd to pass upon the question of calling a convention to revise the present state constitution. The most vital question that confronts the state to-day is this question of a new constitution. To vote intelligently on it will require a careful study of the situation in Indiana on the part of the voters. It is important that they should have full information as to the conditions imposed on the people by the present constitution and of the opportunities afforded by constitutional revision to better the situation.

The question will be put up to the voters by independent ballot on plain white paper 4 inches square containing the words, "ARE YOU IN FAVOR OF A CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION IN THE YEAR 1918?"

In order to carry the proposition, a majority of all voters of the state, voting at this election must vote "YES." The normal vote in Indiana for candidates is about 700,000. Of this number at least 350,001 must vote "YES" to carry the question, regardless of the number of "NO" votes. In effect, those who do not vote at all on the proposition are counted against the convention. The ignorant and indifferent voter thus constitutes a tremendous handicap on the movement to secure constitutional revision. It is not, therefore, too much to ask that every voter seek to prepare himself to vote on the question and with full understanding of his act.

The legislative act also provides in detail for the next three steps toward revision in the event that the vote of November 3rd carries. A special election will be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in March, 1915, for the election of delegates to the convention. These will be 150 in number, apportioned throughout the state in the same manner as members of the General Assembly now are apportioned. Any qualified voter may be a candidate for delegate from his district by filing a petition signed by 100 voters of the district. No political party shall be permitted to nominate candidates. The election shall be non-partisan in every particular.

The purpose of the act is plainly to secure a delegate convention which will be fairly representative of all the people of the state and to remove the necessity of serving partisan interests. It is to be fundamentally a people's convention.

The delegates elected shall meet in Indianapolis on the first Monday in May, 1915, and

"shall constitute a Convention for the purpose of making such amendments, alterations and changes in the present Constitution of the State of Indiana or the making of an entirely new Constitution for the State of Indiana as such Convention may deem proper and which new Constitution shall be submitted to the vote of the people of the State of Indiana to be by them ratified or rejected." said Convention may submit one or more amendments or one or more sections of the proposed Constitution, as distinct propositions, to be voted upon by the people separately or together, as to the Convention seems expedient.

The members of the convention shall receive a per diem of ten dollars per day and mileage, and shall not remain in session longer than one hundred and eighty (180) days, Sundays excepted.

It is to be noted that this movement for a new constitution is not in any way connected with the proposed new constitution of 1913—the so-called "Marshall Constitution"—which was written by the Legislature of that year. This "Marshall Constitution", which was a copy of the present constitution, with 23 Articles amended, was never submitted to the people for adoption or rejection, for the reason that its presentation by the Legislature was declared unconstitutional on the ground that the Legislature was without authority.

The important fact of the present movement for a new constitution is that it confides wholly in the people. It comes from no partisan source. It is directed at no party or faction. Its advocates are appealing to no prejudices nor to any special interests. They are using only educational means. It offers a rare opportunity for the people of Indiana to acquaint themselves with the big fundamental facts of their state government, and to make their influence felt in shaping and directing its future functions.

U. S. NURSES AS "SISTERS."

Washington, Oct. 12.—American Red Cross nurses en route to European battlefields will be known as "Sisters," writes Miss Helen Hay, general superintendent of the nurses, in a letter made public last night by Red Cross headquarters.

Miss Hay, now known as "Sister Helen," explains that the custom was adopted because it will be easier for the sick and wounded to remember Christian names prefixed by "Sister" than if the American style of "Miss Hay" was resorted to.

Ohio Boy, Blind and Deaf, Battles Against Huge Odds.

Columbus, O., Oct. 12.—Leslie Oren, a high school graduate of Wilmington, O., is blind and deaf. Until recently he was dumb, and now he has an additional affliction: he is almost heartbroken. Having graduated last June from a high school, Leslie expected to enter the state university at Columbus this fall. But he needed more than books to carry on his studies. He needed an interpreter who could read the language of the blind and speak the lip language of the deaf. The university faculty included no teacher who could assist the speechless, sightless boy, and though every effort was made to find one, the search was fruitless. Leslie was refused admittance to the university.

Although he declares he is "heartbroken with disappointment," the much afflicted youth refuses to abandon his quest for learning, and he has entered the state institution for the blind, where he will receive four hours' instruction in college studies each day.

CHAMPION HEARSE DRIVER.

Detroit Man Has Figured in 9,000 Funerals in Twenty-Four Years.

Detroit, Oct. 12.—Charles Turner has attended approximately 9,000 funerals within twenty-four years, yet he retains a cheerful disposition. Turner, who is a hearse driver, says he believes he has established a world's record in the matter of frequent attendance at burial ceremonies.

"I regret that I have not kept any record of the funerals I have attended," Turner said. "However, I am absolutely safe in estimating that I have attended 375 funerals a year for the last twenty-four years. That's just a little better than one a day."

ENGLISH TRADE RECOVERS.

Report Says Commerce Has Improved Since First Shock of War.

Washington, Oct. 12.—All branches of trade in England during September showed gains over the figures for August, according to a statement given out today by the British embassy here. It is stated that, according to the board of trade reports, the increases extended to all the principal classes of articles which, it is claimed, proves that the trade of the nation has made excellent recovery from the first shock of war. The gain in imports is said to have been nearly three million pounds sterling; in home exports, 2,500,000 pounds; and in foreign and colonial re-exports 750,000 pounds. Exported naval and military stores are not included in these figures.

Henry O. Rogers Killed and Two Others Injured Near Columbia City.

Henry O. Rogers, a Pennsylvania conductor, was instantly killed and Flagman H. V. Schroyer and Brakeman O. Henning were slightly injured at 1:15 o'clock Monday morning when the caboose in which they were riding left the rails and went on its side one and one-half miles west of Columbia City.

HENRY O. ROGERS.

The train was eastbound and was running at fifty miles an hour, according to Engineer D. H. Monahan and Fireman L. C. Faulkner, who were in the cab of the locomotive pulling it, when the accident happened. When a search for Conductor Rogers was made, he was found lying clear of wreckage at the point where the caboose turned over and the circumstances indicated that he had gone outside to receive or answer some signal and was on the platform when the car was turned over. An examination of the body revealed only one mark—a bad bruise and cut at the base of the skull, probably inflicted by a large piece of stone ballast.

Mr. Schroyer and Mr. Henning remained in the caboose when it went on its side and their injuries were not severe and they were able to assist others in searching for Mr. Rogers. The injured men came to the city on No. 18 this morning, went to the St. Joseph hospital, where their wounds were examined and dressed and were then permitted at their own request to go to their homes.

The body of Conductor Rogers was turned over to the coroner of Whitley county, who after an investigation, delivered it to Engineer F. H. Rogers, a nephew of the deceased, who will bring it to the city on No. 8 tonight.

The accident was due to a broken wheel on the car next to the caboose. The deceased was born December 14, 1863, and would have been fifty-one years old next December. He was unmarried and when in the city made his home at 1315 Francis street. He began railroad work as a freight brakeman on the Pennsylvania February 18, 1880, January 6, 1890, he was promoted to freight conductor and November 18, 1910, he was advanced to the passenger service. When the reduction in passenger crews took place a short time ago, Mr. Rogers was returned to the freight service.

H. O. Rogers was a Mason and a member of Fort Wayne commandery No. 4, Knights Templar. He was also a member of Division No. 119, Order of Railway Conductors, and of the Pennsylvania Relief union.

The funeral will be held Wednesday afternoon and will be under the auspices of the Knights Templar and the Order of Railway Conductors. Surviving the deceased are the following brothers and sister—Charles Rogers, of Peru; John Rogers, of Toledo; James Rogers, a mill man in northern Michigan; Marcus Rogers, residing somewhere in California, and the sister, Grace, whose name could not be learned, who is married and resides in Detroit. As far as possible, these relatives have been notified and will be at the funeral. Engineer Frank H. Rogers and Engineer W. W. Rogers, of the Pennsylvania, were nephews of the deceased.

Both Mr. Schroyer and Mr. Henning were extra freight conductors and were serving temporarily in the capacity of brakeman and flagman until traffic increased to the point where their services would be needed as conductors.

Conductor Dinger Victim of Distressing Accident.

H. P. Dinger, of 1630 East Lewis street, a freight conductor on the Pennsylvania, suffered a broken ankle this morning at 7 o'clock. He was serving as a flagman on extra westbound 9009, and as he was getting off the caboose to assist in shifting some cars at a station on the west end of the line, he stepped upon a stone and it turned, spraining and breaking the bones of his left ankle. Mr. Dinger was brought to the city on 52 at noon today and taken to his home, instead of at the hospital, at his own request. Mr. Dinger was among the conductors who were put back in the ranks a few months ago when the number of crews was reduced.

WAITERS' UNION IS BOOMING.

No. 480, Cooks and Waiters' union, one of the youngest of Fort Wayne labor organizations, has taken on great activity since the meeting of the State Federation, particularly in the way of adding to the membership, which today approximates 125. At a meeting a week ago Sunday fifteen applicants were admitted to membership and at a meeting tomorrow night at least fifteen applications will be acted upon. At this meeting the question of increasing the admission fee to $5 and the hearing of the reports of the delegates to the State Federation will also come up.

JOHN BARRY VERY SICK.

The condition of Machinist John Barry, of the Pennsylvania air brake department, who has been ailing for two years, suddenly grew worse this morning and his father, Owen Barry, the blacksmith, was summoned home in haste. It is feared that the young man cannot survive the attack.

Marriage Views Stir Feminists

Coningsby Dawson

New York, Oct. 8.—Would a woman rather be an unhappy wife than a spinster who is merely contented? Would a woman sacrifice peace and comfort for the privilege of tacking "Mrs." to her name?

These questions raised by Coningsby Dawson in his new book, "The Itait," has called forth a storm of protest from the feminists who sternly deny the implied charge that women cannot be happy in single blessedness.

The keynote of the book is found in the heroine's lament: "We are two girls adrift on a raft. Over there's the land of marriage with all the little children, the homes and the husbands; unless some of the men go to sea and put off in boats to our rescue we'll be swept into the hunger of mid-ocean."

signed this morning to return to his old home in Ohio.

George Bugert, a cabinet maker, and George Dierstein, an upholsterer at the Pennsylvania shops, are off duty on account of sickness.

Merl Kimble, of the punch press department of the Electric works, who had been off duty on account of sickness, returned to work this morning.

E. C. DesPres, machinist, who had an eye hurt three weeks ago, was able to resume work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

Machinist W. H. Miller has recovered from an illness and resumed work in the Pennsylvania erecting shop this morning.

The Pennsylvania has installed a spur track leading from the main line at Hanna street into the Krudop coal yards, on Francis street.

The meeting of the Federation of Labor tonight will be important as it will include the closing up of matters connected with the late State Federation meeting.

The Lake Shore put its manual block signal system in operation on the Fort Wayne branch yesterday, completing the extension to every branch of the system.

R. J. Fisher left today for St. Louis on business for the Bass Foundry and Machine company. This is Mr. Fisher's first business trip out since his return from California a week ago.

The resignation of Herbert Smith as vice-president of local 22, Brotherhood of Blacksmiths and Helpers, has been followed by the election of Paul Bohm to that office. Mr. Bohm is employed in the Wabash shops.

A derrick and two crews of men from Peru began active operations in laying the slabs on the Harrison street subway of the Wabash road this morning, and the work will now be pushed to a speedy completion.

A few of the men in the general testing department of the Fort Wayne Electric works were engaged Saturday afternoon and Sunday in testing and preparing a machine for shipment to Chicago.

Telegraph Operator J. J. Wilkinson, of the G. R. & I., and Parcel Man Joseph Shea, at the Pennsylvania passenger station, were each operated upon Saturday, the former for hernia and the latter for appendicitis. They are getting along first rate.

Switzerland, N. P. Davis, of the Pennsylvania, has resumed work. He was east visiting in Pittsburgh and later in and about Crestline, where he has a number of friends and relatives. Crestline is Mr. Davis' native place and where he began his railway career.

Engineer H. E. Fisher will resume a through freight run on the Pennsylvania. For several months he had a local run between Lima and Crestline, but is now here to go into through freight service. For the past two weeks he has been on a farm in Ohio, resting.

George Lawton, who was employed in the lamp department of the Fort Wayne Electric works about ten years ago, was a caller at the works this morning. During his absence from the city Mr. Lawton has been employed in various cities of the west, but may decide to locate here in the future.

H. A. Koenig, who will represent the local Car Workers' union at New York, beginning October 20 and continuing in session a week, will leave in a few days and will be accompanied by Mrs. Koenig. After the convention Mr. and Mrs. Koenig will visit relatives in Dover, N. J., and spend a few days at Buffalo and Niagara Falls before returning home.

As a nucleus to a sick benefit fund the Bartenders' union will raise money by giving a ball some time this fall. This subject was introduced by W. A. Jackson at a meeting two weeks ago, but no definite action was taken at that time. The matter has been discussed by the members, however, and they will carry the ball proposition to a consummation.

Business Agent C. H. Johnson, of the local Machinists' union, is doing a good work in finding employment for the unemployed machinists. Saturday he sent R. O. Heckman, one of the suspended men from the Wayne Oil Tank works, to Decatur, Ill., to work in the Wabash shops and he now has employment for two other machinists who are willing to leave the city.

A guest at the home of Passenger Engineer Henry Strasser and wife is Peter Redding, late a member of the United States army, but recently discharged by expiration of the enlistment term. Mr. Redding was a member of the Fourth artillery and was at Vera

London, Oct. 12.—"The fiercest fighting during the last fortnight," says Reuter's Paris correspondent, "centered around Albert, Roye and Lassigny. Not an acre of ground in this region is without traces of the terrific struggle. Albert, which was first regained from the Germans, is a heap of ruins. Only the gilded clock tower remains. Roye sustained an uninterrupted bombardment for a fortnight and no longer exists. Lassigny was the stronghold of the enemy, being the point of the wedge which the Germans were endeavoring to drive into the allies."

The struggle in this region had much of the same character as that on the right bank of the Aisne. Around Roye, like around Soissons, the Germans made the most of the quarries in establishing a defensive, necessitating a regular siege on the part of the allies. There, as in many other places, the enemy had prepared his ground in time of peace."

War Dictionary

The D. S. O.—Abbreviation for "Distinguished Service Order," a British order of merit now nearly thirty years old. It was instituted on November 9, 1886, with the idea of rewarding naval and military officers for acts of gallantry not quite deserving of the V. C.

It is an enameled Maltese cross with a crimson center, bearing a crown on one side and the Royal cipher on the other. The ribbon is red with blue edging. The V. C. carries no social precedence, but the Companion of the Distinguished Service Order is entitled to walk in front of eldest sons of younger sons of peers, baronets' eldest sons and others.

For the blue jacket or the soldier, the counterpart of the D. S. O. is the D. C. M., or Distinguished Conduct Medal.

INVENTORS

A party of men were discussing the world's great inventors and inventions. Each had his favorite. Morse and the telegraph, Marconi and the wireless, Whitney and the cotton gin, Bell and the telephone, Wright and the aeroplane, Edison and the electric light—each had his own voracious champion. When a tall came in the conversation a little man who had previously kept quiet plied up and said: "Yes, those men were all great men, but let me tell you that the man who invented interest was no slouch."
The little man was right. Interest has filled the world with peace and comfort, even if it has bankrupted some fellows that didn't know its force. Four per cent, on savings in our savings department.

SOUTHERN BELLES WEAR COTTON FROCKS TO TANGO TEAS.

Mrs. Omar F. Elder

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—Southern millonaires' wives—fashion critics—are wearing all-cotton frocks now. Not merely for house dresses, but to tango teas, receptions and operas.
Parisian models find their replicas throughout the south in cotton fabrics. The "all-cotton" label is worth more now to debutantes than the silk-spun name of a Paris designer.
All of which is done by the women

to show their patriotism and help create a market for the southern farmer's greatest commodity.

In Atlanta the plan of women to wear cotton goods started when the City Federation of Women's Clubs declared such action would be heroic as well as beautiful.

Daughters of the old confederacy said, "We'll dress as our mothers and grandmothers did for the sake of Georgia and Dixie. We'll do our part in fighting the south's cause."

But the first to wear cotton goods were heroic. It was harder to do than to promise. Mrs. Omar F. Elder, earnest matron, and Miss Louise Riley, pretty leader of the younger set, were the first actually to start to wearing cotton frocks.

Others were quick to follow and society began giving cotton parties, with miniature holes as souvenir, while place cards boomed the buy-a-hale campaign. Linen showers for brides-elect gave way to cotton showers.

KNIFE RESTORES PENSION MONEY

Operation on a Fireman's Head Enables Him to Recover $4,000.

New York, Oct. 12. Clouded in mind for fourteen years as a result of a blow on the head, and cured by a surgical operation that enabled him to go into court and fight to right a wrong that had been done him by some unidentified person, is the experience of John Jennings, of Long Island City, one of the oldest retired firemen in the city.

Mr. Jennings' story was revealed yesterday when Justice Gavegan, of the Supreme court, signed an order on the recommendation of Controller Prendergast compelling the city to pay to Jennings $4,000 back pension that had been illegally withheld from him because some one had changed his retirement record and up to last year he was not in a mental condition to know the difference.

An fire in 1899 Jennings was injured about the head so severely that he became mentally deficient. In June of that year, he was retired on a pension of $800 a year. Until May of 1913 Jennings was unable to handle his own affairs. In May of 1913, a surgical operation was performed and a few months later he appeared to have regained all his faculties.

Then he discovered that instead of receiving $800 a year pension since 1899, he had received only $533, the amount he would have been entitled to had he been retired without being injured. He started an investigation and began writing letters to officials connected with the department. These letters were clear and showed that he was again able to use his mental faculties for clear reasoning. Inquiry revealed the fact that $800 had been awarded Jennings, but someone had erased the figures $800 and the fact that he had been injured in service and inserted $533 a year and noted that he had been retired in the usual order. Who did it or why no one knows.

Controller Prendergast referred the matter to City Counsel Polk and the latter recommended that Jennings receive the difference with interest and hereafter he would receive the original amount.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach or bowels.

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour. Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, or your child is listless, cross, feverish, breath bad, restless, doesn't eat heartily, full of cold or has sore throat or any other children's ailment, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all this constipation poison, sour bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A thorough "inside cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.
Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

"Giddy Gibby" Will Enter Movie Land

Margaret Gibson

As a baby Margaret Gibson was carried on the stage, and at the age of three she spoke her first lines. Since then her life has been one long succession of hotels and theaters. Her one desire to have a home of her own was what prompted her to enter pictures, and now she is the little Vitaphone star, heading the Santa Monica organization in California.

Miss Gibson, or "Giddy Gibby," as she is often called, has just celebrated her nineteenth birthday.

A COLD PLUNGE PUT BEATRICE INTO THE LIGHT OF FILMDOM.

Beatrice Van

(By Esther Hoffman.)
"I believe the first motion picture I ever acted in would have cured most any girl; but I had made up my mind to stick and make good," said Beatrice Van, the Universal leading woman, to me.

"It was a 'slap-stick' comedy and I had to jump off a rock into a lake with all my clothes on. Poor me! I couldn't swim a stroke! But I decided to keep still, especially as I heard the director say that it wasn't deep. So I shut my eyes, opened my mouth and jumped. I never did hit bottom. I never knew there was so much water in the world, and most of it seemed to have gone down my throat.

"The first thing I knew they were 'saving' me. I was scared to death, because I knew the picture was spoiled. 'I don't want to picture a real drowning,' said the director, laughing at his against all director's rules to be

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost overnight if you'll get a 50 cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days. Adv.

pleasant to a new recruit). "Just waste out again and splash around!"
"The real tragedy of my first day in the 'movies' came a few moments later when the men killed a big snake which had been smooching a few feet from the scene of action."

Beatrice Van is one of the few actresses who didn't come out of New York. She is a small town girl without any previous stage experience.

She is a dainty blond of English and Irish descent and was educated in a convent. Her complexion might be likened unto fresh rose leaves. Her hair is golden and her eyes are deep violet.

WABASH MAKING PROMISE GOOD

Harrison Street Work Will Be Completed Within Few Days.

After waiting a year for the Wabash railroad to complete its bridge work at the Harrison street subway, the city government can see the beginning of the end of delay at that point. Monday the railroad began loading the massive forty-ton concrete slabs that are to span the subway opening and if no wrecks on the road compel the use of the big wrecking cranes at some other place the slabs will be in position by the end of this week. The wooden piling that support the temporary bridge will then be removed and the McJannet Construction company, contractors for the city work, will have a clear way for the grading of the driveway, the laying of the pavement and the construction of the sidewalks. It is the expectation that the street will be opened for traffic this fall.

Carmichael & Kreider, contractors for the Wabash work, began Monday morning to install steel T-beams in the bridge at the Taylor street subway so that the piling may be removed and the concrete piers constructed. This is only temporary work, however, it being the purpose to put concrete slabs in for the permanent work.

The Brooks Construction company has begun the work of grading at the Thompson avenue subway.

SMOKE CONSUMER INSTALLED.

Moran Ice Company Giving Trial To Device to Abate Nuisance.

The Moran Ice company has installed for a ninety-day trial a smoke consumer that is pledged by its makers to abate the smoke nuisance. So far the trial is showing satisfactory results. The Moran company was one of the concerns frequently complained of to the board of works, and had been warned when several notices were recently sent out ordering the smoke ordinance. If the device now being experimented with proves satisfactory in all respects to a reasonable degree it may mark the end of the smoke nuisance. The board of works will give those whose smokestacks have been the cause of offense ample opportunity to find the best means for abating the smoke nuisance. One man who received warning applied to the board that he had been in pain and expense to prevent his smokestack from emitting black clouds but that since neighboring smokestacks emitted as greatly as his own he ceased the effort.

WILL ATTEND BIG CONFERENCE.

Mayor Honey and Secretary Wessel to Go to Philadelphia.

It is probable that Mayor W. J. Honey and Secretary John Wessel, of the city light and power works, will represent Fort Wayne at the big conference of municipal officials to be held in Philadelphia Nov. 12, 13 and 14 for the purpose of combining the cities of the country in a big organization designed to protect the public in their relations to public service corporations, especially with reference to rates for water, gas and electric current. Mayor Rudolph Blankenship, of Philadelphia, started the movement and he has been aided in promoting it by mayors of several of the largest American cities. Among other things proposed to be done is the formation of a bureau of public utilities research that shall procure all possible data on public utilities rates and the like and be made a sort of offensive and defensive alliance of the cities.

TO OPEN RUDISILL FARTHER.

Park Board Orders Plans for Boulevard Clear to Anthony.

The park board at its meeting Saturday afternoon ordered City Engineer Merrill to prepare for the opening and improvement of Rudisill boulevard from the alley east of Thomas street to Anthony boulevard and for the opening and improvement of Anthony from Rudisill to Pontiac. The Rudisill boulevard improvement will carry that driveway west across the south side of the city from Broadway to Anthony, and is the last section of the boulevard remaining to be opened. A resolution was ordered prepared for grading Anthony boulevard from the Maumee river to State boulevard.

The park board announced abandonment of the project to lease the White fields east of the city for a public golf course. The rental asked is $1,000 per year, a figure the board does not believe it is able to pay. The entire site people want the board to purchase this property for a park and if this is done a golf course will be laid out.

BIG PETITION WILL GO IN.

Convention Hall Project to Reach City Council Tuesday.

The big petition of 6,000 names asking the city council to take some steps for a convention hall in Fort Wayne will be presented to that body Tuesday evening by the citizens' convention hall committee. No recommendations will accompany the petition. The committee will leave the entire question of when and where, location, size and character and size of structure to the council. It is merely designed to demonstrate to the council the petition that there is an overwhelming demand in the city for an adequate assembly hall and to pray that the council definitely inaugurate steps to procure an institution so much wanted and so badly needed.

FAVORS A CITY MORGUE.

Dr. Edward H. Kruse, corner of Allen street, is author of the suggestion that Fort Wayne should establish a city morgue, where the bodies of persons who meet death by violence may be taken care of until identification is made and remains claimed by relatives. Such cases are now of almost daily occurrence. Dr. Kruse says a single room equipped with a proper sort of table would meet the need.

COAL SCALE FOR SEALER.

City Sealer C. B. Tolson has made arrangements for a wagon scale upon which coal weights may be tested in the southern part of the city. The owner will fix it up and maintain it at his own expense. Some of the city's largest coal yards are in that section, but weight tests have to be made remotely from there and it imposes much inconvenience.

RIVER STOPS WORK ON WALL.

An unexpected rise in the waters of the St. Joe river has compelled the Hermon W. Tapp Construction company to cease operations on the Spy Run avenue retaining wall. The work has already been much delayed and the board of works is feeling some anxiety. A big freshet in the St. Joe might at this time do vast damage to Spy Run avenue at this point.

PENSION BOARD TO MEET.

Secretary Harry G. Beyley announces that there will be a meeting of the trustees of the police pension fund in the city court room Tuesday afternoon to take up matters of importance.

Many conferences will be held in the two days and it is expected that every pastor and Sunday school worker of the Methodist churches of this city will attend. Among the speakers who will address the meetings are Rev. Harry C. Wilson, Rev. Arlo A. Brown, Helen P. Fulton and Rev. James A. Hoebe.

POPULAR-LECTURE COURSE OPENS.

Royal Ladies Welsh Choir Will Render Program at Elks Temple Tuesday.

The popular lecture course of six numbers given under the auspices of the Young Men's Forward Congress opens Tuesday evening when the Royal Ladies Welsh Choir will render a program at the Elks temple. This choir needs no introduction to Fort Wayne people as it has appeared here once before and pleased a record audience.

Without a doubt this number as well as the other five numbers to follow will be well attended as people realize that the press paid for these lectures is only nominal. The proceeds of this course will be added to the fund for a Young Men's Christian Association building for Fort Wayne. Every ticket sold means a boost for the young men of the city.

CLASSES BEGIN THIS WEEK.

Work for the Winter Months at Y. W. C. A. Starts Monday Evening.

Devotion Services Close.

The solemn closing of the forty hours devotion at the St. Rose Catholic church, Monroeville, took place Sunday evening when Rev. W. P. Conran, C.

S. C. of Notre Dame, delivered an interesting and stirring sermon on the subject, "The Blessed Sacrament." The children of the parochial school also took part in these services.

"The Corriere della Sera, published at St. Paul, Switzerland, says revolting atrocities are practiced on the part of the French Senegalese troops.

"The German press, referring to the late King Charles, of Rumania, lays particular stress upon his political ability, his great statesmanship and his efficiency as military leader."

30 SAILORS WERE NEAR STARVATION

New York, Oct. 12.—Thirty hungry sailors who experienced a close call to starvation or the sea, reached New York today aboard the schooner Alice Lord, long overdue from St. Martins, in the Danish West Indies. The little vessel had been driven by a hurricane nearly 1,000 miles from her course. For five days the only daily rations her sailors had was a plate of bean soup and two or three pancakes a piece. The Alice Lord sailed from St. Martins 35 days ago with a cargo of salt. She was short of provisions when she put into port there. St. Martins was short, too, and all the captain could buy was beans. Of these he purchased less than he wanted, but all the townspeople had to sell. The crew settled down to a diet of beans for breakfast, dinner and supper.

UNCLE SAM TO BACK THEM UP

Washington, Oct. 12.—President Wilson today gave assurances that American merchants trading in Europe would have the government back of them to the limit of their rights and that he did not expect that there would be any interference on the part of the nations at war.

The president told callers that the situation affecting conditional contraband was righting itself, but that it was bound to be "somewhat fluid" because of changing conditions and the right of nations at war to put the ban on articles from time to time.

Discussing the effect of the war on business, President Wilson said that from what he could learn the great bulk of business was progressing normally. Business affected by the cotton situation, he added, had been most affected but he expected an improvement.

ALL IN READINESS FOR D.A.R. GUESTS

State Conference to Open in Fort Wayne Tuesday Evening.

The members of various committees or arrangements towards making the local end of the conference of Indiana State Daughters of the American Revolution a success, were busy today perfecting plans and incidentally looking after their households preparatory for the opening of the state meeting tomorrow.

The decorating committee, consisting of Mrs. Walter Massey, chairman; Mrs. Paul Mosman; Mrs. Edwin Dulman; Mrs. W. A. Nichols and Miss Alice Dehl, spent the morning at the Anthony hotel, preparing for the placing of numerous ferns, potted plants and flowers in the hotel reception hall tomorrow.

The hospitality committee, consisting of Mrs. Edward White, Mrs. Dallas E. Greene, Mrs. Frank Rahe and Mrs. Amy Seavey, have looked after the entertainment of the guests. The entire number of visitors will be guests of members of the local chapter and in almost every case the hostesses in the city are to entertain the guests at the hotels, instead of in their own homes. The Anthony hotel will be headquarters for the conference and many visiting Daughters will be entertained there, but a number will be guests at the Randall and Wayne hotels. During the convention the Mary Pennrose Wayne chapter will give two luncheons and a dinner for the delegates. The luncheons will be on Wednesday and Thursday evenings and the dinner on Wednesday evening, all at the Anthony.

Among the musical features by Fort Wayne people will be singing by Mrs. Clara Zollner, Mrs. James E. Elliott, Mrs. George Randall and Miss Walis. Mrs. C. A. Horton, harpist, will play during the reception hours tomorrow evening and accompany Miss Mellette, violinist.

Invitations have been extended to non-members of the local organization to the reception which will follow the opening program tomorrow evening.

The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Exner and son Leonard, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Exner and son Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Exner, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Linker and children Pauline, Stella, Edgar, Earl and Vern, Mr. and Mrs. C. RESIDENCE BURGLARIZED.

Thieves cgt Into Reynolds Home on Woodland Avenue.

Burglars cut their way into the residence of Fred Reynolds, 110 West Woodland avenue, some time Sunday night, it is believed, and ransacked the rooms. What was carried away cannot be ascertained until Mrs. Reynolds returns from Decatur. Her watch and several rings are missing, but she may have them with her, according to Mr. Reynolds, who is a dispatcher on the Pennsylvania and was called home from Convey, O., by the police. An electric meter reader discovered the burglary Monday morning, when he found that holes had been bored through the kitchen door and the lock unfastened. Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds were both away and the thief had things his own way. None of the silverware or cut glassware was taken.

MAY FORM MUSICAL SOCIETY.

Efforts to Combine Musical Talent and Give Joint Recitals.

The second meeting of representatives of the Apollo club, the Balbo trio and the Fort Wayne Symphony orchestra was held on Saturday evening at the Commercial club but no definite plans were made. The committee appointed at a previous meeting consisting of Messrs. George Balbo, Eugene Troendel and O. F. Dodge held a meeting with others of the three organizations to consider joint recitals and report on various features to be considered. One of the things proposed is to organize a musical art society of fifty members who would be willing to aid in supporting such a society and then to give recitals in whose program each of the organizations would be represented. Instead of having three separate musical societies each of which prepares two or three concerts each season.

ANTWERP IS NOT BADLY DAMAGED

But One Section of City Suffers Heavily Under German Fire.

London, Oct. 12.—(3:55 a. m.)—"Antwerp was not seriously damaged by the German bombardment," says the Chronicle's Amsterdam correspondent. "Only the suburb of Herdroom and the southern quarter of the town suffered badly."

"Long after it had been evacuated, the Germans continued firing on the forts. They feared mines and hoped thus to destroy them. Near the southern suburbs the ground had been extensively mined by the Belgians but the Germans were warned by traitors within the city who took care to avoid the danger zone."

"On Thursday morning the retreating troops passed on their flight no fewer than 5,000 motor cars filled with soldiers who had already passed through the town. The intention was to reach Ostend by forced marches, and the soldiers were relieved of their knapsacks which were carried in the vans. Motor busses from London carried foot sore troops who had fallen out of line. Then came columns of machine guns drawn by dogs."

"The procession continued all day and late that night the artillery passed through. They had been in a rear guard action. An officer said they had accounted for heaps of Germans."

The Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent who has just reached London, says that the day before the Germans entered Antwerp he went to the queen's hotel to ascertain the whereabouts of a group of American journalists who had been staying there. He found that they had left the city after having spent the night in a private house which was thrice hit by shells and which finally caught fire.

POLITICAL PARTIES AND A NEW CONSTITUTION

Parties and Leaders Alike Express a Favorable Attitude Toward the Proposition.

One of the most encouraging and significant facts in connection with the movement for a constitutional convention for Indiana is the favorable attitude of the political parties and the responsible leaders.

Governor Ralston in his message to the Legislature in 1912 said:

"In my opening campaign speech last fall, I stated that while I personally favored a constitutional convention, I had no authority to commit my party to such a movement, but that without regard to my individual views, I would, in the event of my election, make such recommendations as to the advisability of calling a convention as I believed fairly represented the views of the people."

What then are the views of the people on this subject?

The Democratic Legislature in 1911 believed that the present constitution of Indiana did not meet the requirements of the people, and so holding it prepared for submission to the voters of Indiana a new constitution.

The Progressive and Republican parties, in their respective platforms of 1912, declared in favor of a constitutional convention. Unless the Democratic Legislature of 1911 and the Progressive and Republican parties were all mistaken, the people of Indiana are in need of and want a new constitution.

Is it strange that they should desire an up-to-date organic law? Their present constitution was adopted more than sixty years ago. Since then the development of our state has been marvelous. Its population has greatly increased and its intellectual, social and material progress have multiplied many fold. New questions have arisen that cannot be solved under the present instrument, and new conditions make it necessary for the people to assert rights they cannot exercise thereunder.

What is a government for if it is not to serve the purpose of the people? Thomas Jefferson believed so strongly that this was the object of government that he maintained that a constitution should contain a provision for its revision every twenty years. There have been but few, if any men in this state who excelled the late Governor Isaac P. Gray in ability accurately to interpret public sentiment. In his message to the legislature more than twenty years ago he strongly advocated the calling of a constitutional convention.

I have thus briefly stated the facts that I believe show that the people want a new constitution, and personally I favor a constitutional convention."

This legislature, which was strongly Democratic, passed the Act submitting the question of calling a constitutional convention to the people, and the Democratic state platform of 1914 says:

"We approve the action of the last General Assembly in making provision that the people may declare whether they desire a convention to frame a new constitution for Indiana."

The Republican state platform of 1914 declares:

"We reiterate our former declaration in favor of the revision of the constitution of the state by constitutional convention consisting of representatives elected by the people, the new constitution so prepared to be submitted to the people for ratification or rejection."

And the 1914 platform of the Progressive party of Indiana says:

"We emphasize the necessity of calling a constitutional convention and urge the people to vote therefor at the coming election."

The present situation in Indiana surely justifies every claim put forward in the above statements as to the need of a new constitution. This demand is a logical protest against the continuance of a situation which makes progress in the political development of the state impossible. It is unmistakable evidence of the growing spirit of progress in state and local government.

WHY NOT PUBLISH IT?

When you want a fact to become generally known, the right way is to publish it. Mrs. Joseph Kallans, Peru, Ind., was troubled with belching, sour stomach and frequent headaches. She writes: "I feel it my duty to tell others what Chamberlain's Tablets have done for me. They have helped my digestion and regulated my bowels. Since using them I have been entirely well." For sale by all dealers.—Adv.

It is one thing to claim quality for a stock of merchandise, but another thing to show it to those who wish to purchase. They show it at Foster's.

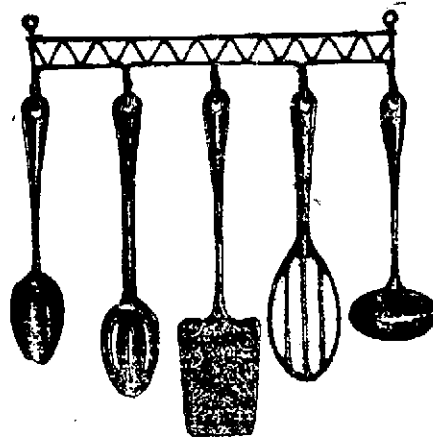

In one big business office in Liverpool a volunteer ambulance corps has been formed and classes are held regularly. They are very popular; except among the office boys, who complain that they are being "almost bandaged to death." A young man in Atchison, Kan., telephoned his girl at midnight that he had dropped a dime on her front porch earlier in the evening and would appreciate it if she would get up early next morning and look for it before any one else came on the porch.

Arthur Casey Fined Heavily for Following Young White Ladies.

Arthur Casey, a young colored man, was found guilty on a loitering charge in the city court Monday morning and given a fine of $20 and costs. He could not pay and went to jail. Casey's arrest was the result of his camping on the trail of two white women, sisters, 16 and 18 years old, who had gone to a millinery store on Main street Saturday evening. Casey followed them to the store and when they came out more than an hour later followed them again on Washington street. A woman to whom they appealed for help notified Officers Young and Bower, who directed the young ladies to go west on Washington street to see if Casey again pursued them. As soon as the girls started Casey again hit the trail and was arrested. He could give no account of his conduct.

Swiped Fowl From Market Vendor. Bill Jacobs related a very elaborate, somewhat complicated and decidedly profane, but unconvincing story of his transaction with William H. Northrup, a dealer on the city market, last Saturday, to prove that a chicken for which he negotiated and later carried away, was paid for. Northrup said that while he was attending to another customer Jacobs walked away with the fowl, about the price of which he had been haggling. The police were notified and Jacobs was later arrested. He was fined $5 and costs and given a suspended sentence of twenty days.

Maltreated His Guests. John Flusher, who conducts a lodging house in West Columbia street, was fined $1 and costs for assault and battery on Howard Sargent and William Sullivan, who appeared at his place late Saturday night and wanted rooms. Both men were intoxicated and were ordered away. As they were leaving Flusher hastened their departure with a broomstick. Sargent received a bad cut in the scalp and Sullivan's face was considerably disfigured.

Crawford Interned for a Long Spell. Eugene ("Boone") Crawford, an incorrigible police character and city court regular, was charged with public intoxication with two previous convictions and received a fine of $100 and costs, which will hold him in jail for nearly four months. He is the fourth of the chronic drunks to be given similar treatment in pursuance of Judge Kerr's policy of severe treatment for the "rotter of regulars who are always going and coming."

Other City Court Cases. Joe Barnes, Harry Holder, Isaac Orvily, Jack Welch, and Henry Meineke, drunks, were turned loose. Jim Case, Jack Gannon, drunks, drew $1 and costs each. George Miller, who was drinking from Gannon's bottle in a down town alley Sunday morning, was charged with loitering and was let go. Everett Brewer, drunk, was continued until Tuesday to get thoroughly sober and give the court a chance to consider his case at more length.

Leonard Benward, a youth of 18, who has recently returned from the boys' school at Plainfield, was continued until Tuesday on a loitering charge, and his bond was fixed at $50.

Fred Barrows, charged with petit larceny, fared well in the fact that the affidavit was changed to public intoxication and he was allowed to go. He had taken $9 from the home of Mrs. Cal Redding, on North Harrison street, some days ago, when he went to the Redding home to see his little daughter. The money was recovered. Barrows was on the verge of delirium tremens when arrested.

Frank Rich, a loiterer, and Homer Bolenbaugh, charged with disorderly conduct, were turned loose.

Jerry Farley, an ex-convict, was put under $500 bond and continued until October 13 on a charge of impersonating an officer. He called Jacob Kopp from a restaurant on Harrison street Saturday night and claiming to be a plain clothes man, started to go through him. He was detained until an officer could be called.

MORE TERRIBLE THAN AT LIEGE

Rotterdam, Via London, Oct. 12.—4:48 a. m.—A correspondent of the Tidje, describing the scenes at Antwerp, says: "When the outer forts were taken the Belgians, exhausted, and with their heads swathed in bandages, withdrew to the inner line. Two commandants blew up their forts and spiked their guns."

"The Germans succeeded in forcing a breach in the inner girdle of forts sooner than was expected. Belgian mines of the inner and outer forts cost the Germans thousands of lives, but Gen. von Beseler, the German commander, apparently had been ordered to take the city at all costs with a view of safeguarding the German army in the north of France."

"The scene of Liege was as nothing in comparison to the last two nights of the bombardment of Antwerp, which was the most terrible of the war. While the bombardment was at its height the prisoners began to batter at the doors of their cells because bombs had pierced the roofs of the prison. They howled like mad until released and then rushed through the streets as though devils were at their heels and began to pillage. This they continued to do until they were suppressed by force."

LEAP FROM A WINDOW.

Three Prisoners Escape From Indianapolis Workhouse.

Indianapolis, Oct. 12.—Three prisoners, with six months each to serve, escaped from the Marion county workhouse, Northwestern avenue and Twenty-first street, at 6 o'clock last night by sawing a bar from a third-story window and jumping to the ground. All three were trustees. The men were detected while climbing through the window, and Jerry O'Connor, superintendent, gave the alarm. Immediately a large force of patrolmen, bicyclists and mounted men was dispatched to watch the railroad yards and detectives joined Superintendent O'Connor in the chase.

George Johnson, 17 years old, 2106 English avenue, was captured at the Big Four tracks and English avenue by bicyclists Peats and Muse two hours after the escape. He suffered a broken left arm in the jump from the third story window and was taken to police headquarters and later returned to the workhouse.

Fred Smith, 27 years old, of Kokomo, and Arthur Wildrich, 19 years old, of Indianapolis, still are at large. The men ran in different directions.

London, Oct. 12.—4:02 a. m.—The Daily Chronicle's Antwerp correspondent gives a picture of the panic in the Belgian town and flight of the populace.

"Before the bombardment had long been in operation," the correspondent says, "Antwerp's civil population fell into a panic. Immense crowds gathered along the quay and at the railroad stations in their efforts to make an exit from the city. Early on Thursday morning more than 40,000 had assembled on the long quay in the hope of boarding fifteen tug boats bound for Flushing, Rotterdam and other Dutch ports. These were not vessels of any considerable carrying capacity and no one had made arrangements for a systematic embarkation, a wild struggle followed among the frantic people. The boats had no regular gangways and the only means of boarding them were over narrow planks, tipped at dangerous angles.

"Up these the fugitives struggled, the strong elbowing the weak out of the way in their mad haste to escape. It was marvelous that there was not a terrible death list resulting from the struggle. Many persons were forced over into the water, but their rescue generally was prompt. As far as it was possible to learn the casualty list consisted of two women drowned and one woman suffering from a fractured skull sustained in a fall from a plank. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon all the tugs had gone and the quays were still filled."

PENSION TOTALS SHOW DECREASE

Washington, Oct. 12.—Uncle Sam paid out a total of $172,417,544 in pensions in the fiscal year ended June 30, last, according to Commissioner of Pensions Saltzgeber in his annual report made public today. This compares with $174,171,880 in 1913 which was the largest amount ever paid out. The commissioner points out, however, that the sum of expenditures has been reached and a decrease in the amount may be expected to continue. The grand total of expenditures for pensions from 1866 up to and including 1914 was $4,633,511,926. The total number of pensioners of all classes on the rolls was 785,239 against 820,272 in 1913. The number of civil war pensioners was 723,129 compared with 702,439 in 1913. The largest number over on the rolls was in 1902 when there were 999,466.

The report gives the losses to the pension roll by death of civil war soldier pensioners for the past several years showing that the percentage of years is increasing with the advancing years of the veterans. There were 462,379 such pensioners on the rolls at the beginning of the fiscal year 1914, and the loss by death during the year was 33,639, or 7.3 per cent.
